NORWAY VICINITY

Malcolm Gregg is with a party motoring through sections of Canada.

Lester Davis and family of Westfield, N. J., arrived Monday for the season.

Norway belongs to you as much as anybody else; don't wait for others to start everything.

Fred Moore of Portland is taking his vacation and is here with Mrs. Moore and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Prince Steward are at the Decoster cottage near Old Orchard Camp Grounds for two weeks.

Advertising is the yeast that makes business rise. It will work in Norway as well as anywhere else in the world.

Edward Holt has gone to Albany to spend a portion of the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Sawin.

Miss Dorothy Noble is having her vacation from the dental office of Dr. A. W. Easton and enjoying the time at the homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kincaid and two children, Norman and Marjorie, of Somerville, Mass., are at their cottage for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Libby and daughter, Leone, of Auburn, and Miss Celestine Judkins of Somerville, Mass., spent Sunday with Celestine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Judkins, Pleasant street.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, Wednesday, the field day for the Twin Town Nature Club at Happy Valley Farm, East Sumner, was postponed until Friday. The rain kept off so the day was much enjoyed.

Miss Jessie M. Wild of Chicago, Ill., is spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. J. C. Lukens, and her sister, Mrs. Raymond Morgan, and family, while on her way to New York to attend the summer session at Columbia University.

Among those who attended the Commandery banquet and get-to-gether, Tuesday at the Moulton House in Dunstan, were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Edminster, Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Cushman and Mr. and Mrs James N. Favor. There were seventy-five present.

"Red" Keniston and Elmer Dean are fitting up a Willis-Knight truck with trailer attached for hauling pulp wood from Albany to Cumberland Mills. Two thousand cords and more is the estimate on the cutting job handled by Elmer Aldrich and Leslie McAlister. Elmer Dean will drive the new four ton outfit.

Tell the folks about the Pine Tree games for next Saturday, is one of the hints passed along. Well, fans, on Saturday, June 28, if showers hold off, Livermore will play at Mechanic Falls, Oxford at Wilton, Lisbon at Rumford and Norway at Paris on the fair grounds. The latter game promises to be a warm one.

Miss Elsie Smith, who has been teaching in Washburn, has arrived at her home for the summer. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Paul White, who remained over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morris of Harwich, Mass., will also spend much of the vacation here. "The Alexander" cottage will be the headquarters of the family.

Rev. and Mrs. Olin B. Tracy of Skowhegan, sailed from New York for England, Saturday, June 14th, as members of the Good Will Pilgrimage to England, and will also attend the International council at Bournemouth, which takes place from July 1st to the 8th. They will spend some time sight seeing with a short trip to France and return on the Baltic on July 12th.

Mrs. Verdal M. Sampson entertained, Thursday afternoon at her home on Beal street. A luncheon was served at one o'clock, and the afternoon was devoted to bridge. In the gathering were Mrs. Robert Bickford, Mrs. Fred S. Brown, Mrs. Fred E. Smith, Mrs. Hugh Pendexter, Mrs. Albert L. Clark, Miss Tessa R. Thibodeau, Mrs. Howard S. Maxim, Mrs. Edward A. Luck. Mrs. Fred Smith won the highest score and Mrs. Maxim was low.

A group consisting of the children and grandchildren of Alvin Brown gathered at his farm in Norway Center last Wednesday evening, June 25, in honor of his eightieth birthday. The feature of the evening was a ten and one-half pound birthday cake, highly decorated and bearing the words, 1850-Alvin Brown-1930. The cake was made by Mrs. Mae Willard and Mrs. Florence Wyman, and was of the three layer design with rose decorations on a white background. Ice cream with fresh wild strawberries was served after the cake was cut.

E. L. Brown and his son, Horace, returned, Wednesday, from a three day trip into the Adirondack Mts., where they delivered a motor boat, formerly the property of Leslie Vivian. The boat rode on Shorty Faneuf's trailer and covered the 266 miles without a mishap. The return trip was made through Plattsburg, N. Y., and a short stop was made in Waterbury to visit with relatives. The excellent weather made the scenery in all three mountain ranges exceptionally beautiful and an enjoyable pleasure as well as business trip was had.

Norway Grange will hold regular meeting, Saturday evening, which will be observed as Children's Day. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Viola Abbott, Mrs. Ethel Dunn, Mrs. Lillian Thurston, Mrs. Marion Holt and Mrs. Edith Buck. Each member is asked to carry a plate of refreshments, either sandwiches, cake or cookies.

Word has been received that Rev. Marcus H. Carroll, Rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Saugus, Mass., since 1925, will retire from active pastoral work. Should his health improve he may do some supply work. Last November he suffered a bad turn and collapsed in the pulpit, but seemed to regain health during a sea voyage to the West Indies. It is with regret that the vestry of the St. John's church accept his resignation.

Norway Municipal Court

Wm. F. Jones, Judge

Albert Kimball and Leonard Kimball of Albany were arrested, Friday, for digging out foxes in Albany on complaint of Chief Warden Lester E. Brown. The case was tried before Judge Wm. F. Jones, Saturday morning and they paid a fine of $20.00 and costs of $5.00.

BALD EAGLE

A bald eagle with two eaglets making temporary headquarters about Lake Pennesseewassee are giving nature lovers a thrill. The family has been in action the past two or three weeks and often rest on stumps not far from Shepard's camps.

Baseball

Pine Tree League

For the past two weeks storms and showers have delayed action in the league and leaves a trail of postponed games. However, on Wednesday things were changed and all games scheduled were carried through.

Livermore defeated Rumford 10-6 and Oxford pulled away from Mechanic Falls with a score 4-2. The game at Oxford follows:

TRAINS GO ON SUMMER SCHEDULE

Trains on the Grand Trunk Railroad are due to change time Saturday, June 28.

Norway daily service except Sunday, is as follows: Leave Norway for Portland 8:41 a. m.; arrive from Portland 6:18 a. m.

Trains leave South Paris for Portland, 5:27 a. m., daily; 8:47 a. m. daily, except Sunday; 5:26 p. m., daily. Trains leave for the West 9:40 a. m., daily; 6:30 p. m. (Island Pond local) except Sunday; 10:16 p. m., daily.

All trains are operated on standard time. Special weekly seaside rates to Portland are in force on Friday, Saturday or Sunday. Tickets are good through Monday.

A PATHETIC SIGHT

The writer, with a friend, recently went into the new part of the Norway Pine Grove Cemetery. It is in a fine location, with walks and driveways. Some sixteen years ago when I passed it daily it had only one monument in the whole tract. Now it is thickly covered. On every burial lot we noticed that the grass was cut and on many were flowers and flowering plants. No tall grass was to be seen anywhere. This was not so in the old part of the cemetery, where many lots are sadly neglected.

There are no places on earth so sacred and demanding our care as the ones where our loved ones sleep. Nothing should shock us so much as to see them neglected and uncared for. As we went into the northeast corner of the new part we were shocked to see nine little pegs of wood in the ground on which were affixed upon small pieces of boards, the surnames only of as many persons who had evidently been buried there. There were no stones of any kind to mark the graves. Those pegs with the names even, of those who rest beneath, must soon disappear, and then there will be no trace, even, that anyone was ever buried there. Can anyone think of anything more sad or melancholy? It should be somebody's business to see to it that such graves are properly marked. —C. F. W.

MISS DORR GOING ABROAD

Miss Elva Dorr leaves for Montreal, July 10, and will sail from there, going to Paris, France, where she will visit old friends, among them being Mary Mealand Stone, a former music teacher in the Norway schools.

Miss Dorr will visit eight different countries while abroad. She will take in the Passion Play at Oberammergau, will visit Florence and Rome, Italy, Switzerland, the Alps and Carcassonne, a very old town in the Pyranees, almost in Spain, which celebrated its 2,000th birthday last year. She will sail from Scotland for home arriving soon after Labor Day.

KIWANIS NEWS

This week, Thursday, the members of Norway-Paris Kiwanis Club and their ladies gathered at Birch Villa Inn at Bryant Pond for their annual field day and frolic.

Kiwanian Wiski of the Newark, New Jersey Club, owner of Birch Villa Inn, is host and has spared no pains in getting all things at the Inn in readiness for an enjoyable time.

Dr. Swett, general chairman of the event, has taken an immense amount of time and energy to prepare for the entertainment and his various committees and chairmen announced in this paper last week, have done no less.

Stalls are filling at the fair ground and horses are arriving for summer training. Among the steppers are George Smith's string from Oxford, a number fom Al Russell's stables at Buckfield and our Twin Town stables.

Mrs. Josephine Meserve is taking the week out at Stone's Drug Store, leaving the two McAllister sisters at the soda fountain. Next week with "Joe" back, there will be three McAllister sisters on the job for summer business.

The rank of Esquire was conferred by Pennesseewassee Lodge last Thursday night. This Thursday evening the rank of Knight will be worked. Two lodges of Waterford and Oxford Bear of Hanover have been invited. A supper served after the work will be in charge of Pert Nevers.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leach of Revere, Mass., were callers at Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Robertson's. They were accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Leach Robertson, who has been with her brother for several weeks. After a short visit in Norway she will proceed to her home in Eustis and make at least one visit on the way.

Miss Rose E. Hamlin went to Waltham, Mass., last Saturday morning. On Wednesday, Miss Hamlin and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wiley and daughter of Waltham went to Worcester, and on Thursday they, in company with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Howe, left for Norfolk, Va., Baltimore, Md., Washington, D. C., and other places of interest.

Why Not Continue Tarvia?

Norway-Waterford Road in Perfect Condition to Continuing the Black Road

More tarvia for the Waterford stage road is considered the proper thing now the highway is prime for the treatment.

Considerable surfacing has been done this spring with a black road now extending from the head of Main street in Norway, through Norway Lake village and to a point toward North Waterford, some three miles from the beginning. This highway is improved through Lynchville to East Stoneham, a distance of some 16 miles, and for its excellent surface and natural scenery has become one of the most traveled highways in this section.

This is also a commercial route and much trucking is carried on between the Waterfords, Stoneham, Harrison and Norway. At present the road bed is solid and never before in better condition for a continuation of the tarvia. Many fine things are said in favor of this extension and all apreciate the splendid work already accomplished.

Few routes in this section offer greater scenic attractions for tourists. There is the beautiful drive along the shore of Lake Pennesecewassee, then through the Norway Lake hamlet and past Dr. C. A. Stephen's residence, where many tourists call. A trip to Mellie Dunham's call many over a part of this road. The Norway Country Club golf links are along the highway, along with Little Pennesseewassee Lake, Papoose Pond and Harry Brown's camps. Lynchville is something of an amusement center and to reach the famous beryl mines in Albany from Norway, travelers must pass over about 14 miles of this route. Many other interesting places can be found and partly for this reason there is a general feeling that more black road is good business and will preserve the excellent gravel surface already in place.

REUBEN AND MARIA ENTERTAIN

Pleasant Evening at the Lake

Last week, a group of Daughters, who took part in the Patriotic drill at Department Convention in Portland, were delightfully entertained at Mrs. Bertha Noyes' cottage at the lake. The invitations, written on brown paper, purported to come from a real Reuben from "way back" and the affair was to be a real barnyard event. The place of the meeting was not given out, which lent color to the mystery. On arriving at the cottage, they found the wide porch arranged as an old fashioned barn, with the floor covered with hay.

Several contests appropriate for the setting were put on and among them was a milking contest, won by Mrs. Eva Abbott, who received a china cow. The second was won by Mrs. Betty Jacobs, who received a china cream pitcher. Mrs. Ruby Sharon won the animal cutting contest when animals were cut from paper, and received a box of animal crackers. Each one was given a Rube name and failure to call each other except by this name cost a forfeit. Some of the forfeits imposed were "screams."

Each one was required to write a verse in the Camp log, and some real poets were revealed. The hostess served a delightful lunch of crabmeat patties, salads, hot rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee, cheese tidbits and mints. On the place cards were pictures of Reuben and Maria. During the lunch hour, Mrs. Clara Howe was presented with a string of pearls, as a slight token of appreciation for her assistance in putting on the drill. A pleasant hour was spent singing old songs to the accompaniment of Mrs. Betty Jacobs' uke. Those present were the honor guest, Mrs. Clara Howe, Mrs. Bertha Noyes, Mrs. Mary Kimball, Mrs. Ruby Sharon, Mrs. Della Bickford, Mrs. Nettie Nevers, Mrs. Fannie Monk, Mrs. Eva Abbott, Mrs. Betty Jacobs.

HEYWOOD CLUB NOTES

The Wendat Campfire Girls of the Universalist church of Lewiston have been spending the past week at the Heywood Club House. While there they called the Club House the "Wendat Wigwam". The girls slept on hay beds on the floor. Swimming was enjoyed by all at Pennesseewassee Lake. The scenery was enjoyed and admired very much.

Wednesday night Mellie and Gram took supper with the girls. After supper Mellie played for them and Gram danced. The girls took group pictures with Mellie and Gram in place of honor.

Friday night a Council Fire was held over on the property of H. M. Jackson, father of Elizabeth Jackson, Campfire Secretary. There were twelve present including the guardian, who presided in the Indian Ceremonial Robe and Head Band. The girl all wore Wendat costumes, consisting of navy blue bloomers and yellow blouses with green W's and trimmings. Beads of honor were awarded to all. The group consisted of Mrs. Harry R. Freeman, guardian, Josephine Freeman, Margaret Johnson, Dorothy Hammond, Lois Johnson, Frances Gerry, Viola Samson, Irene Freve, Betty Clough, Elizabeth Parker, Shirley Clifford, Elizabeth Jackson and Alice Fletcher, a guest of the week.

On Saturday the group was broken up and the girls returned to Lewiston after a very enjoyable week. The Wendat Campfire appreciates the community spirit and friendly feeling that was shown them during their stay.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Elizabeth Herrick was given a surprise party on her ninth birthday, Tuesday, June 24, at the home of Rev. Raymond Morgan. The party was planned by Mrs. Morgan and her sister, Miss Jessie Mae Wild, of Evanston, Illinois.

Twenty-one children attended the party. Pink and white decorations added to its attractiveness. Action games kept the children occupied happily for more than two hours, when presents were distributed and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Norton of Los Angeles, Cal., are spending a few days with Mrs. Norton's cousin, Mrs. Adaline W. Hooper.

Mrs. Georgia Swain left Thursday for Old Orchard. Mrs. Nora Keene of Bristol, N. H., will be her guest for the summer and Miss Grace Holden of Acton, Mass., and Miss Helen Aspenwall of Rochester, N. Y., will be there through July.

Rustfield cemetery on Greenleaf Avenue has been improved by additional care given to four or five lots by Ed. Rich. Grading has been done and one has said, "if others would do as much, the burial place would show less neglect and become attractive".

Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher and son and daughter of Indianapolis, Ind., were guests, Friday of Frank P. Stone and daughter, Miss Beatrice Stone. Mr. Fisher is chief chemist at the Van Camps Packing Co., and is enjoying a tour through the Provinces and Eastern states.

Fourth of July Celebration

Plans Going On for a Big Time

Plans are developing rapidly for the celebration in Norway on Friday, July 4th. The show will open with a parade in Norway about 9:30 and made up largely of automobiles decorated for the occasion. One feature will be the famous stage coach owned by Byron Tuttle of South Paris. Horses provided by Leon G. Newcomb and Harry Millett will draw the ancient vehicle with the reins in charge of a veteran teamster. Ponies will be seen in the parade and a number of surprises are expected.

A ball game opens the program at Oxford County fair grounds at 10 o'clock. Another game will follow the races in the afternoon.

Some real horse racing will start with three races on the card, namely 2:17; 2:22 and 2:14, all trot and pace for purses of $400 each and no entrance fee. Heats will be 3 in 5. Among the starters will be Lou Trask, 2:03 1-4; Watson B., Jr., 2:07 1-2; Peterkin, Maxeyalight and Louise Sarva. Horses from the stables of Frank Pulmer, Jim Jordan, Franz Simmons will be on hand. Frank Fox and Billy Nelson are expected to enter a number of steppers. The Twin Town Stables will be there and George Smith and Joe Robinson of Oxford are expected to show their stuff. Without question the trotting card will be the strongest offered here for some time.

As this will be an all day celebration arrangements have been made to feed everybody. Over on the midway, Graves, who made fried clams famous will cater. Mrs. Mary Bicknell will serve lunches and Mrs. Florence Westleigh in the "Pines of Maine" will provide dinners. The American Legion will have a stand and look after refreshments around the ball field and grandstand. The committee is in touch with a carnival for the midway, but no definite information is yet available.

Norway Paris Band has been secured for a series of concerts during the day. This organization has been in practice during the winter and is in a position to serve a brand of music that fits into a day of patriotic amusements and good cheer.

Taken altogether, the combined forces of the American Legion and Norway Athletic Club will make the eagle scream and build up a program of baseball and horse racing worth traveling miles to see.

Obituary

Mrs. Mahlon E. Doughty

Mrs. Florence L., wife of Mahlon E. Doughty of Norway, passed away Friday night, June 20, at the Central Maine General Hospital in Lewiston, where she had been for fifteen weeks. Gangrene followed a severe case of pneumonia and both legs were amputated above the knee. She had been paralyzed for some weeks.

She was born in Shelborne, N. H., April 19, 1900, the daughter of Walter J. and Celia Harriman Wheeler.

Ten years ago she was married to Mr. Doughty and they have since resided near the Doughty farm above Norway Lake. She leaves her husband and three children and one daughter by a former marriage, also her parents, two brothers and one sister.

Services held Monday afternoon at Spiller's Funeral Home were attended by Rev. Raymond Morgan of the Congregational church. The bearers were William McKay, Harold Howe, Lester Cobb of East Waterford and Ralph Flood of Norway Lake. Burial was at Norway Pine Grove cemetery.

What Uncle Lem Says

The primary election in Maine last week in general results, except in one case, turned out as anticipated. The big vote, however, cast for Ex-Mayor John Wilson of Bangor for candidate for Governor, and for Ex-Gov. R. O. Brewster for candidate for United States Senator, seems to indicate a great dissatisfaction and unrest among the masses of the people. The strangest feature of all is Brewster's vote in Aroostook County which he carried over Congressman White. It was understood that the Aroostook farmers demanded an increase of the tariff on potatoes for their protection, which they got. Brewster in his campaign, assailed the tariff as a whole though he said nothing about the particular protection on potatoes. White defended the tariff and particularly because there were several Maine industries among which were Aroostook farming benefitted by it, yet White lost in Aroostook. What is the reasonable explanation? They could not regard up there, Ex-Gov. Brewster, as an especial champion of their interests, nor Congressman White as opposed to them. To be sure he had said some things in the campaign that were unAmerican—favoring a draft in case of war, for one, but his speech over the radio at Bangor, Friday night before the election, showed him to have the statesmanlike spirit in him of his grandfather, and caused your Uncle Lemuel to disregard for that election the — fool and unAmerican idea of a draft and heartily supported him. If this country had been put into a state of defense when the World War commenced as Holland, for instance was, Germany would not have dared to sink a single vessel or given us any occasion to go to war. It's safe to say that this country never will be caught in such a situation again as in 1914-17, and when the manhood of this nation will not volunteer to defend it when assailed by a foreign foe, it will be ready to go the way of the Roman empire. It may not be expected that an ordinary voter is very much moved by such ideas and sentiments, but a statesman should be.

How much better and more commendable it is for a statesman like Dwight W. Morrow to declare honestly what he believes than for a mere political office seeker to state what he does not believe for the sake of obtaining a few votes. The former might open a way for the continued success of his party, while the latter in time would bring it to an inglorious end.

There is not much question of dissatisfaction and unrest among the masses of the people. We can see it in other parts of Maine as well as in Aroostook county. In the nation at large the indications point to an opposition Congress. Some persons then will come to their senses and not advocate measures that are extreme and unreasonable and which cannot be enforced. The conditions are ripe for independent movements. The great trouble is that there are too many small bore politicians trying to fit into square holes—that is who are not qualified for the positions they seek. Such will not have the support of your —Uncle Lemuel.

Alphonse Colombe of Lewiston was in the Lewiston Municipal Court, Friday, charged with the possession of sixteen white perch in closed season. He was fined $100.00 and cost of $12.87, and $16.00 for sixteen fish. He paid the costs.

Norway Churches

Baptist

Thursday: C. E., 7.30. Topic, "How Jesus Made Leaders of His Disciples." Leader, Inez McAllister.

Sunday: Morning worship at 10:45, with sermon by the pastor. Bible School at 12. Evening meeting in the vestry, at 7.00.

The Home Department, avoiding the week of the Fourth, will not meet until Wednesday, July 9.

Universalist

Rev. Conrad B. Rheiner of Philadel- of Philadelphia, Pa., a candidate for the pastorate of the First Universalist church in Norway, will preach there next Sunday at 9:45 o'clock, daylight time. His subject will be "What is Enough?" This young minister has just returned from Waterloo, Iowa, where he was the minister of the Universalist church for two years. Previous going to Waterloo, the Rev. Mr. Rheiner served as a student pastor at Framingham, Mass., and as summer pastor at Lempster, N. H. He was born in Philadelphia. Until he began his theological studies at Tufts College, Medford, Mass., in September, 1926, he resided with his parents in that city. He was educated in the public schools there, graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree from the Central High School in 1920 and from the University of Pennsylvania with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1925. Immediately after his graduation from Crane Theological School at Tufts College in 1928, the Rev. Mr. Rheiner went to Europe on an independent tour, where he gathered material for travelogues and cultural lectures on painting, sculpture, architecture, and music, which lectures brought him prominence in his last parish. Mr. Rheiner is married.

Friday afternoon the Ladies' Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Harriet Waite, Whitman street, for work and a social hour. Further plans will be made for the summer sale.

Friday evening there will be another of the pleasant Parish-get-togethers at the church vestry, which will give all a chance to meet Rev. Conrad B. Rheiner. The hostesses are Mrs. Marguerite McIntire, Mrs. Marion Holt, Miss Marian Downing, Miss Marion Haskell, Mrs. Frances Twitchell, Mrs. Adeline Klain, Mrs. Mae Hutchins and Mrs. Florence Knightly. Those not solicited are asked to carry pastry.

The annual picnic was held Wednesday, at Tripp Lake, with a good attendance of children and older folks. Ball games, swimming and water sports were enjoyed. The special feature was the picnic dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McIntire will entertain the teachers and officers of the Sunday school at a picnic supper at Pine Lodge, Papoose Pond on Tuesday, July 1st.

The ladies of the Universalist church will hold a public food sale, Saturday afternoon at the Norway Buick salesrooms, next the post office, at 3 o'clock. Beans and brown bread and pastry will be featured. Mrs. Bessie Hill is chairman of the committee.

Methodist

10.30, morning service, Mr. Lyon preaches a gospel message. 12.00, church school; 6.15, Epworth League; 7.30, pastor's sermon-story of "Pilgrim's Progress" and a song service.

Friday evening, June 27, the First Quarterly Conference will be held at the Methodist Church. Rev. A. I. Oliver, the District Superintendent, will be in charge and also Mr. McIntire, one of the "Carrollers", who has been having such good success at Otisfield, will be here to give a short talk on "things religious." Everybody is invited to be present, especially the members of the Conference.

Despite the warm days, there has been a very good attendance at the Methodist Church and especially is this true of the evening services. Rev. Mr. Lyon has been giving a series of five very interesting story-sermons taken from the book "Pilgrim's Progress." Very much enthusiasm has been displayed and very many people have been present to hear the trials of the chief character, "Mr. Christian." Next Sunday evening, June 29, Mr. Lyon will give the last story, bringing Mr. Christan at last to the Celestal City. Mr. Lyon invites everybody to come out to hear this beautiful story. Remember the time is 7.30 o'clock.

The Methodist folks are preparing now for a glorious "camp meeting" this year at Poland. A very splendid program is in process of making and a big turn-out this year is expected. Rev. Mr. Lyon advises the good folks of Norway to plan their vacation time in order that they may be able to attend these great, inspiring meetings. Good music, good preaching, and a good place to enjoy spiritual and physical peace. The date set for the camp meeting is July 27, to Sunday, August 3rd, inclusive. Plan to be present. Everybody is invited to the camp.

Congregational

The Household committee of the Congregational church will meet Friday at Mrs. Philip Noble's cottage, which is located in "Sandy Cove" on the east shore of Lake Pennesseewassee. Covered dish lunch will be served at one o'clock. All ladies of the parish are invited. Mrs. Noble and Mrs. Charles F. Cummings are the committee on transportation.

"The Business of the Church" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Raymond Morgan at the Congregational Church, Sunday morning, at the 11 o'clock service. This will be Mr. Morgan's last sermon to be delivered in Norway.

The Sunday school picnic will be held Wednesday, July 2, at Tripp Lake, leaving the church at 10 o'clock. Ernest Moores is in charge of the outing. If stormy, Wednesday, it will be the next fair day.

Mr. and Mrs. Perley C. May have been spending a week at Higgins Inn at Higgins Beach.

Paul Nevers is laid up with a broken finger and out of the Pine Tree League games for some weeks. He injured his hand during the pre-season exhibition game with Paris.

Mrs. Walter Getchell has returned from a visit with the family of Eugene Fickett in Auburn, and with Prof. and Mrs. Alfonso Niles of Sabattus.

Virgil Flood, proprietor of the J. F. Bolster Monumental Works is putting in a stone wall next to Tannery Brook and filling the low part of the lot around the building.

June Weddings

Mann-Fletcher

Walter Maford Mann of Norway and Miss Florence Eleanor Fletcher of Lynn, Mass., were married June 21, at the home of the bride's parents in Lynn. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. Rose, D. D., pastor of the Lynn Universalist church, who used the double ring service. Mr. and Mrs. Warren J. Guild of Arlington, Mass., were matron of honor and best man. Only members of the immediate families were present.

The bride's gown was white georgette crepe, with tulle veil and she carried a shower bouquet of roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor wore peach georgette and her flowers were peach roses and blue Delphinium. An informal reception followed the ceremony with only the families present and lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Mann are spending their honeymoon at Rangeley Lakes and will be at home, 25 Highland Avenue, Norway, after July 12.

Mrs. Mann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh F. Fletcher of Lynn, Mass. She is a graduate of Lowell, Mass., high school and has been employed for some years by the New England Telephone Co., where she was pay roll supervisor of the central division. She is a member of the Eastern Star and attends the Universalist church.

Mr. Mann is the son of Mrs. Emma H. and the late Walter Mann of Norway. He is a graduate of Norway high school, class of 1908. For many years he was bookkeeper and clerk at the C. F. Ridlon store. During the past year he bought the Smith Shoe Store, one of the old established businesses in the village. He is a member of the Universalist church and a valuable worker in all the departments. He is affiliated with the Masonic lodge, chapter, council and Ark Mariners, and also Oxford Chapter, Order Eastern Star.

Hatch-Noble

Telegraphic announcement was received Wednesday morning of the marriage in Hartford, Conn., Tuesday evening, of Miss Lona E. Noble, R. N., formerly of Norway, and George Hatch of Hartford, Conn. This is the fourth surprise marriage of Norway people this month and as Miss Noble is a Norway girl and one of the very popular ones, her friends are much interested. Details of the wedding or the bridegroom are lacking as she had made a confident of no one as far as can be learned, not even her relatives knowing of her intentions.

The bride is the daughter of the late F. Marion and Myra P. (Hall) Noble of Norway. She was educated in the Norway schools, graduating from high school in 1907. She trained for a nurse in Portland hospitals, and for some time has been located in Hartford, Conn., returning to her home town for her vacations.

SOUTH PARIS NEWS

Dyer-Robertson

A very pretty June wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Robertson, Church street, Thursday, June 19, at 10 o'clock, when their only daughter, Miss Miriam Edna Robertson, became the bride of Ralph Forest Dyer of Otisfield. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. C. L. Kinney, pastor of Deering Memorial Methodist church, using the double ring service. The couple were unattended.

The bride was charming in a gown of pale green crepe de chene and carried an arm bouquet of yellow lilies and syringa blossoms. Only the immediate family were in attendance. The house was attractively decorated with garden flowers. A lovely wedding cake decorated with a miniature bride and bridegroom was cut by the bride. Many wedding gifts have been received by the couple.

As the bridal couple were about to depart on their honeymoon trip by automobile, a party of friends arrived unannounced, and amid congratulations and best wishes showered them with rice and confetti.

The bride is a graduate of South Paris high school in the class of 1923. Mr. Dyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Dyer of Otisfield.

Dorr-West

Miss Margaret West of Spring street, daughter of Lester A. West of South Paris, and Millard F. Dorr of Cape Elizabeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindon Dorr of Winterport, were married June 21, at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. Paul Bonney, on Deane street, Portland.

Rev. J. L. Wilson of Yarmouth officiated, using the double ring service. The couple were attended by Miss Frances West of Boston, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Howard H. Parlin of Portland as best man. Priscilla Bonney was flower girl.

The bride was gowned in white satin and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. The maid of honor wore robin's egg blue and the flower girl pink crepe de chine.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lester West and Mrs. Adna West of South Paris; Miss Frances West of Boston; Mrs. Linden Dorr and daughter, Catherine of Winterport; Mr. and Mrs. Denis Parlin and son, Emery, and Rev. L. N. Tillson of East Sumner; Mrs. Annie B. Small and sons, Ralph and Gilbert, and daughter, Mrs. Rachel Hawkes of South Windham; Miss Emma West of Eliot; Miss Elsie Emery of Portland.

Reunion at Falmouth Foreside

A family reunion especially in honor of the eightieth birthday June 4, of Mrs. Abba Ella Jones, was held at the island home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Perley Robinson, Falmouth Foreside, on June 8, the first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Greene.

Congratulations were also extended Mrs. Edward L. Greene, whose birthday was June 2, and Mr. and Mrs. Greene, whose 29th wedding anniversary was June 5.

A picnic dinner was much enjoyed, a large birthday cake with appropriate decorations being presented Mrs. Jones by her granddaughter, Miss Dorothy Wilbur. Group photos were taken of the party, which numbered fifteen and included Mrs. Abba E. Jones, Walter S. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilfred Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Greene, Miss Kathryn Greene, Miss Mildred Daly, Miss Dorothy Wilbur and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. J. Perley Robinson. Those unable to be present were Harold H. Walker, Miss Ruth Marsh and Mr. and Mrs. John Randall.

Rescued Child at Lake Tripp

Lewis Button of South Paris rescued a little girl at Lake Tripp, Sunday, after she waded beyond her depth and in danger of drowning.

The child wandered from a picnic party on the north shore and unobserved waded into deep water. Her cries were heard by Mr. Button and he plunged in quite unmindful of his new suit of clothes. The little girl was badly frightened and swallowed considerable water, but otherwise not hurt.

Mr. Button understood the party came from Portland, but in his hurry to get away from publicity, he failed to secure any names.

Paris Grange will hold a food sale at L. W. Titus' store on Friday, the 27th, at 2:30 daylight time.

At the next meeting of the G. A. R. Circle there will be a pound party for one of our needy members. Please come prepared.

Mrs. Mabel Wing goes on Thursday of this week to Harrison to work in a camp for the summer.

Mrs. Edith Miller and daughter, Miss Ruth G. Miller, are visiting a relative at Ocean Grove, N. J.

Mrs. Frank S. Chandler has returned to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred P. Chandler in Auburn, after a visit with relatives in South Paris and friends in Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grant, Mrs. Sarah Parlin and Mrs. Byron Wagner of Dorchester, Mass., have been on an automobile tour for some ten days.

Dr. and Mrs. Myles S. Record of Abington, Mass., are visiting Mrs. Record's mother, Mrs. Emma Kerr.

The clothing store of the L. F. Pike Co. in Association Block will close for the present after about thirty years as one of the prominent business places in town. This was carried on for many years as the F. H. Noyes Blue Store, and from the first was operated as a part of the Norway Blue Store. Earl Farnham, clerk for some years, will enter the automobile business as salesman with the Norway Buick Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley J. Rawson of Bar Harbor are spending part of their vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Cole.

Mrs. Marion Clifford, Mrs. Elsie Barnes and Mrs. Bertha Abbott attended a meeting of the Second District Council American Auxiliary at Lisbon Falls.

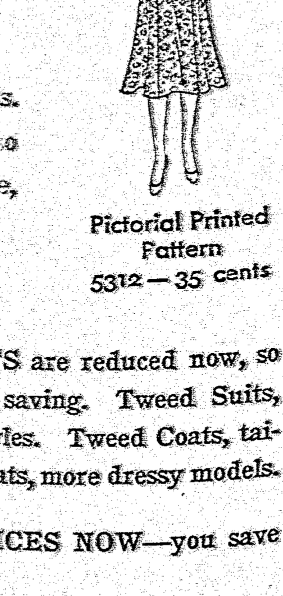

Benjamin Swett has been seriously ill with heart trouble at his home on Western Avenue. Two nurses are in attendance. The children of Mr. and Mrs. Swett were called, Mrs. Rose Abbott of Lewallen of Buckfield, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Swett and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest M. Swett of Bangor, and Mrs. Olive Locke and daughter, Sara, of Ogden, Utah. Mrs. Locke and daughter arrived on the forenoon train, Saturday.

Miss Margaret Thayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Thayer of Bristol, N. H., is a guest this week of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thayer. Miss Grace Thayer of South Paris is visiting in Bristol for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Eastman and Mrs. J. O. Hamilton received injuries late Friday afternoon, when their car left the Waterford road not for from Papoose Pond and went into the ditch. Mr. Eastman, who was driving, turned out for another car and lost control. Mrs. Eastman's leg was broken near the ankle, she was treated at her home and is reported gaining. Mr. Eastman suffered cuts and briuses on the head, but not serious. Mrs. Hamilton also received minor cuts and bruises. The car was not badly damaged.

John M. Chandler is employed in the feldspar mill at West Paris and boarding with his sister, Mrs. Oscar D. Doughty.

NORWAY VICINITY

Malcolm Gregg is with a party motoring through sections of Canada.

Lester Davis and family of Westfield, N. J., arrived Monday for the season.

Norway belongs to you as much as anybody else; don't wait for others to start everything.

Fred Moore of Portland is taking his vacation and is here with Mrs. Moore and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Prince Steward are at the Decoster cottage near Old Orchard Camp Grounds for two weeks.

Advertising is the yeast that makes business rise. It will work in Norway as well as anywhere else in the world.

Edward Holt has gone to Albany to spend a portion of the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Sawin.

Miss Dorothy Noble is having her vacation from the dental office of Dr. A. W. Easton and enjoying the time at the homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kincaid and two children, Norman and Marjorie, of Somerville, Mass., are at their cottage for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Libby and daughter, Leone, of Auburn, and Miss Celestine Judkins of Somerville, Mass., spent Sunday with Celestine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Judkins, Pleasant street.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, Wednesday, the field day for the Twin Town Nature Club at Happy Valley Farm, East Sumner, was postponed until Friday. The rain kept off so the day was much enjoyed.

Miss Jessie M. Wild of Chicago, Ill., is spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. J. C. Lukens, and her sister, Mrs. Raymond Morgan, and family, while on her way to New York to attend the summer session at Columbia University.

Among those who attended the Commandery banquet and get-to-gether, Tuesday at the Moulton House in Dunstan, were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Edminster, Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Cushman and Mr. and Mrs James N. Favor. There were seventy-five present.

"Red" Keniston and Elmer Dean are fitting up a Willis-Knight truck with trailer attached for hauling pulp wood from Albany to Cumberland Mills. Two thousand cords and more is the estimate on the cutting job handled by Elmer Aldrich and Leslie McAlister. Elmer Dean will drive the new four ton outfit.

Tell the folks about the Pine Tree games for next Saturday, is one of the hints passed along. Well, fans, on Saturday, June 28, if showers hold off, Livermore will play at Mechanic Falls, Oxford at Wilton, Lisbon at Rumford and Norway at Paris on the fair grounds. The latter game promises to be a warm one.

Miss Elsie Smith, who has been teaching in Washburn, has arrived at her home for the summer. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Paul White, who remained over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morris of Harwich, Mass., will also spend much of the vacation here. "The Alexander" cottage will be the headquarters of the family.

Rev. and Mrs. Olin B. Tracy of Skowhegan, sailed from New York for England, Saturday, June 14th, as members of the Good Will Pilgrimage to England, and will also attend the International council at Bournemouth, which takes place from July 1st to the 8th. They will spend some time sight seeing with a short trip to France and return on the Baltic on July 12th.

Mrs. Verdal M. Sampson entertained, Thursday afternoon at her home on Beal street. A luncheon was served at one o'clock, and the afternoon was devoted to bridge. In the gathering were Mrs. Robert Bickford, Mrs. Fred S. Brown, Mrs. Fred E. Smith, Mrs. Hugh Pendexter, Mrs. Albert L. Clark, Miss Tessa R. Thibodeau, Mrs. Howard S. Maxim, Mrs. Edward A. Luck. Mrs. Fred Smith won the highest score and Mrs. Maxim was low.

A group consisting of the children and grandchildren of Alvin Brown gathered at his farm in Norway Center last Wednesday evening, June 25, in honor of his eightieth birthday. The feature of the evening was a ten and one-half pound birthday cake, highly decorated and bearing the words, 1850-Alvin Brown-1930. The cake was made by Mrs. Mae Willard and Mrs. Florence Wyman, and was of the three layer design with rose decorations on a white background. Ice cream with fresh wild strawberries was served after the cake was cut.

E. L. Brown and his son, Horace, returned, Wednesday, from a three day trip into the Adirondack Mts., where they delivered a motor boat, formerly the property of Leslie Vivian. The boad rode on Shorty Faneuf's trailer and covered the 266 miles without a mishap. The return trip was made through Plattsburg, N. Y., and a short stop was made in Waterbury to visit with relatives. The excellent weather made the scenery in all three mountain ranges exceptionally beautiful and an enjoyable pleasure as well as business trip was had.

Norway Grange will hold regular meeting, Saturday evening, which will be observed as Children's Day. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Viola Abbott, Mrs. Ethel Dunn, Mrs. Lillian Thurston, Mrs. Marion Holt and Mrs. Edith Buck. Each member is asked to carry a plate of refreshments, either sandwiches, cake or cookies.

Word has been received that Rev. Marcus H. Carroll, Rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Saugus, Mass., since 1926, will retire from active pastoral work. Should his health improve he may do some supply work. Last November he suffered a bad turn and collapsed in the pupit, but seemed to regain health during a sea voyage to the West Indies. It is with regret that the vestry of the St. John's church accept his resignation.

Norway Municipal Court

Wm. F. Jones, Judge

Albert Kimball and Leonard Kimball of Albany were arrested, Friday, for digging out foxes in Albany on complaint of Chief Warden Lester E. Brown. The case was tried before Judge Wm. F. Jones, Saturday morning and they paid a fine of $20.00 and costs of $5.00.

A PATHETIC SIGHT

The writer, with a friend, recently went into the new part of the Norway Pine Grove Cemetery. It is in a fine location, with walks and driveways. Some sixteen years ago when I passed it daily it had only one monument in the whole tract. Now it is thickly covered. On every burial lot we noticed that the grass was cut and on many were flowers and flowering plants. No tall grass was to be seen anywhere. This was not so in the old part of the cemetery, where many lots are sadly neglected.

There are no places on earth so sacred and demanding our care as the ones where our loved ones sleep. Nothing should shock us so much as to see them neglected and uncared for. As we went into the northeast corner of the new part we were shocked to see nine little pegs of wood in the ground on which were affixed upon small pieces of boards, the surnames only of as many persons who had evidently been buried there. There were no stones of any kind to mark the graves. Those pegs with the names even, of those who rest beneath, must soon disappear, and then there will be no trace, even, that anyone was ever buried there. Can anyone think of anything more sad or melancholy? It should be somebody's business to see to it that such graves are properly marked. —C. F. W.

MISS DORR GOING ABROAD

Miss Elva Dorr leaves for Montreal, July 10, and will sail from there, going to Paris, France, where she will visit old friends, among them being Mary Mealand Stone, a former music teacher in the Norway schools.

Miss Dorr will visit eight different countries while abroad. She will take in the Passion Play at Oberammergau, will visit Florence and Rome, Italy, Switzerland, the Alps and Carcassonne, a very old town in the Pyranees, almost in Spain, which celebrated its 2,000th birthday last year. She will sail from Scotland for home arriving soon after Labor Day.

KIWANIS NEWS

This week, Thursday, the members of Norway-Paris Kiwanis Club and their ladies gathered at Birch Villa Inn at Bryant Pond for their annual field day and frolic.

Kiwanian Wiski of the Newark, New Jersey Club, owner of Birch Villa Inn, is host and has spared no pains in getting all things at the Inn in readiness for an enjoyable time.

Dr. Swett, general chairman of the event, has taken an immense amount of time and energy to prepare for the entertainment and his various committees and chairmen announced in this paper last week, have done no less.

Stalls are filling at the fair ground and horses are arriving for summer training. Among the steppers are George Smith's string from Oxford, a number fom Al Russell's stables at Buckfield and our Twin Town stables.

Mrs. Josephine Meserve is taking the week out at Stone's Drug Store, leaving the two McAllister sisters at the soda fountain. Next week with "Joe" back, there will be three McAllister sisters on the job for summer business.

The rank of Esquire was conferred by Pennesseewassee Lodge last Thursday night. This Thursday evening the rank of Knight will be worked. Two lodges of Waterford and Oxford Bear of Hanover have been invited. A supper served after the work will be in charge of Pert Nevers.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leach of Revere, Mass., were callers at Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Robertson's. They were accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Leach Robertson, who has been with her brother for several weeks. After a short visit in Norway she will proceed to her home in Eustis and make at least one visit on the way.

Miss Rose E. Hamlin went to Waltham, Mass., last Saturday morning. On Wednesday, Miss Hamlin and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wiley and daughter of Waltham went to Worcester, and on Thursday they, in company with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Howe, left for Norfolk, Va., Baltimore, Md., Washington, D. C., and other places of interest.

Why Not Continue Tarvia?

Norway-Waterford Road in Perfect Condition to Continuing the Black Road

More tarvia for the Waterford stage road is considered the proper thing now the highway is prime for the treatment.

Considerable surfacing has been done this spring with a black road now extending from the head of Main street in Norway, through Norway Lake village and to a point toward North Waterford, some three miles from the beginning. This highway is improved through Lynchville to East Stoneham, a distance of some 16 miles, and for its excellent surface and natural scenery has become one of the most traveled highways in this section.

This is also a commercial route and much trucking is carried on between the Waterfords, Stoneham, Harrison and Norway. At present the road bed is solid and never before in better condition for a continuation of the tarvia. Many fine things are said in favor of this extension and all apreciate the splendid work already accomplished.

Few routes in this section offer greater scenic attractions for tourists. There is the beautiful drive along the shore of Lake Pennesseewassee, then through the Norway Lake hamlet and past Dr. C. A. Stephen's residence, where many tourists call. A trip to Mellie Dunham's call many over a part of this road. The Norway Country Club golf links are along the highway, along with Little Pennesseewassee Lake, Papoose Pond and Harry Brown's camps. Lynchville is something of an amusement center and to reach the famous beryl mines in Albany from Norway, travelers must pass over about 14 miles of this route. Many other interesting places can be found and partly for this reason there is a general feeling that more black road is good business and will preserve the excellent gravel surface already in place.

REUBEN AND MARIA ENTERTAIN

Pleasant Evening at the Lake

Last week, a group of Daughters, who took part in the Patriotic drill at Department Convention in Portland, were delightfully entertained at Mrs. Bertha Noyes' cottage at the lake. The invitations, written on brown paper, purported to come from a real Reuben from "way back" and the affair was to be a real barnyard event. The place of the meeting was not given out, which lent color to the mystery. On arriving at the cottage, they found the wide porch arranged as an old fashioned barn, with the floor covered with hay.

Several contests appropriate for the setting were put on and among them was a milking contest, won by Mrs. Eva Abbott, who received a china cow. The second was won by Mrs. Betty Jacobs, who received a china cream pitcher. Mrs. Ruby Sharon won the animal cutting contest when animals were cut from paper, and received a box of animal crackers. Each one was given a Rube name and failure to call each other except by this name cost a forfeit. Some of the forfeits imposed were "screams."

Each one was required to write a verse in the Camp log, and some real poets were revealed. The hostess served a delightful lunch of crabmeat patties, salads, hot rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee, cheese tidbits and mints. On the place cards were pictures of Reuben and Maria. During the lunch hour, Mrs. Clara Howe was presented with a string of pearls, as a slight token of appreciation for her assistance in putting on the drill. A pleasant hour was spent singing old songs to the accompaniment of Mrs. Betty Jacobs' uke. Those present were the honor guest, Mrs. Clara Howe, Mrs. Bertha Noyes, Mrs. Mary Kimball, Mrs. Ruby Sharon, Mrs. Della Bickford, Mrs. Nettie Nevers, Mrs. Fannie Monk, Mrs. Eva Abbott, Mrs. Betty Jacobs.

HEYWOOD CLUB NOTES

The Wendat Campfire Girls of the Universalist church of Lewiston have been spending the past week at the Heywood Club House. While there they called the Club House the "Wendat Wigwam". The girls slept on hay beds on the floor. Swimming was enjoyed by all at Pennesseewassee Lake. The scenery was enjoyed and admired very much.

Wednesday night Mellie and Gram took supper with the girls. After supper Mellie played for them and Gram danced. The girls took group pictures with Mellie and Gram in place of honor.

Friday night a Council Fire was held over on the property of H. M. Jackson, father of Elizabeth Jackson, Campfire Secretary. There were twelve present including the guardian, who presided in the Indian Ceremonial Robe and Head Band. The girl all wore Wendat costumes, consisting of navy blue bloomers and yellow blouses with green W's and trimmings. Beads of honor were awarded to all. The group consisted of Mrs. Harry R. Freeman, guardian, Josephine Freeman, Margaret Johnson, Dorothy Hammond, Lois Johnson, Frances Gerry, Viola Samson, Irene Freve, Betty Clough, Elizabeth Parker, Shirley Clifford, Elizabeth Jackson and Alice Fletcher, a guest of the week.

On Saturday the group was broken up and the girls returned to Lewiston after a very enjoyable week. The Wendat Campfire appreciates the community spirit and friendly feeling that was shown them during their stay.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Elizabeth Herrick was given a surprise party on her ninth birthday, Tuesday, June 24, at the home of Rev. Raymond Morgan. The party was planned by Mrs. Morgan and her sister, Miss Jessie Mae Wild, of Evanston, Illinois.

Twenty-one children attended the party. Pink and white decorations added to its attractiveness. Action games kept the children occupied happily for more than two hours, when presents were distributed and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Norton of Los Angeles, Cal., are spending a few days with Mrs. Norton's cousin, Mrs. Adaline W. Hooper.

Mrs. Georgia Swain left Thursday for Old Orchard. Mrs. Nora Keene of Bristol, N. H., will be her guest for the summer and Miss Grace Holden of Acton, Mass., and Miss Helen Aspenwall of Rochester, N. Y., will be there through July.

Rustfield cemetery on Greenleaf Avenue has been improved by additional care given to four or five lots by Ed. Rich. Grading has been done and one has said, "if others would do as much, the burial place would show less neglect and become attractive".

Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher and son and daughter of Indianapolis, Ind., were guests, Friday of Frank P. Stone and daughter, Miss Beatrice Stone. Mr. Fisher is chief chemist at the Van Camps Packing Co., and is enjoying a tour through the Provinces and Eastern states.

Fourth of July Celebration

Plans Going On for a Big Time

Plans are developing rapidly for the celebration in Norway on Friday, July 4th. The show will open with a parade in Norway about 9:30 and made up largely of automobiles decorated for the occasion. One feature will be the famous stage coach owned by Byron Tuttle of South Paris. Horses provided by Leon G. Newcomb and Harry Millett will draw the ancient vehicle with the reins in charge of a veteran teamster. Ponies will be seen in the parade and a number of surprises are expected.

A ball game opens the program at Oxford County fair grounds at 10 o'clock. Another game will follow the races in the afternoon.

Some real horse racing will start with three races on the card, namely 2:17; 2:22 and 2:14, all trot and pace for purses of $400 each and no entrance fee. Heats will be 3 in 5. Among the starters will be Lou Trask, 2:03 1-4; Watson B., Jr., 2:07 1-2; Peterkin, Maxeyalight and Louise Sarva. Horses from the stables of Frank Pulmer, Jim Jordan, Franz Simmons will be on hand. Frank Fox and Billy Nelson are expected to enter a number of steppers. The Twin Town Stables will be there and George Smith and Joe Robinson of Oxford are expected to show their stuff. Without question the trotting card will be the strongest offered here for some time.

As this will be an all day celebration arrangements have been made to feed everybody. Over on the midway, Graves, who made fried clams famous will cater. Mrs. Mary Bicknell will serve lunches and Mrs. Florence Westleigh in the "Pines of Maine" will provide dinners. The American Legion will have a stand and look after refreshments around the ball field and grandstand. The committee is in touch with a carnival for the midway, but no definite information is yet available.

Norway Paris Band has been secured for a series of concerts during the day. This organization has been in practice during the winter and is in a position to serve a brand of music that fits into a day of patriotic amusements and good cheer.

Taken altogether, the combined forces of the American Legion and Norway Athletic Club will make the eagle scream and build up a program of baseball and horse racing worth traveling miles to see.

Obituary

Mrs. Mahlon E. Doughty

Mrs. Florence L., wife of Mahlon E. Doughty of Norway, passed away Friday night, June 20, at the Central Maine General Hospital in Lewiston, where she had been for fifteen weeks. Gangrene followed a severe case of pneumonia and both legs were amputated above the knee. She had been paralyzed for some weeks.

She was born in Shelborne, N. H., April 19, 1900, the daughter of Walter J. and Celia Harriman Wheeler.

Ten years ago she was married to Mr. Doughty and they have since résided near the Doughty farm above Norway Lake. She leaves her husband and three children and one daughter by a former marriage, also her parents, two brothers and one sister.

Services held Monday afternoon at Spiller's Funeral Home were attended by Rev. Raymond Morgan of the Congregational church. The bearers were William McKay, Harold Howe, Lester Cobb of East Waterford and Ralph Flood of Norway Lake. Burial was at Norway Pine Grove cemetery.

What Uncle Lem Says

The primary election in Maine last week in general results, except in one case, turned out as anticipated. The big vote, however, cast for Ex-Mayor John Wilson of Bangor for candidate for Governor, and for Ex-Gov. R. O. Brewster for candidate for United States Senator, seems to indicate a great dissatisfaction and unrest among the masses of the people. The strangest feature of all is Brewster's vote in Aroostook County, which he carried over Congressman White. It was understood that the Aroostook farmers demanded an increase of the tariff on potatoes for their protection, which they got. Brewster in his campaign, assailed the tariff as a whole though he said nothing about the particular protection on potatoes. White defended the tariff and particularly because there were several Maine industries, among which were Aroostook farming benefitted by it, yet White lost in Aroostook. What is the reasonable explanation? They could not regard up there, Ex-Gov. Brewster, as an especial champion of their interests, nor Congressman White as opposed to them. To be sure he had said some things in the campaign that were unAmerican—favoring a draft in case of war, for one, but his speech over the radio at Bangor, Friday night before the election, showed him to have the statesmanlike spirit in him of his grandfather, and caused your Uncle Lemuel to disregard for that election the — fool and unAmerican idea of a draft and heartily supported him. If this country had been put into a state of defense when the World War commenced as Holland, for instance was, Germany would not have dared to sink a single vessel or given us any occasion to go to war. It's safe to say that this country never will be caught in such a situation again as in 1914-17, and when the manhood of this nation will not volunteer to defend it when assailed by a foreign foe, it will be ready to go the way of the Roman empire. It may not be expected that an ordinary voter is very much moved by such ideas and sentiments, but a statesman should be.

How much better and more commendable it is for a statesman like Dwight W. Morrow to declare honestly what he believes than for a mere political office seeker to state what he does not believe for the sake of obtaining a few votes. The former might open a way for the continued success of his party, while the latter in time would bring it to an inglorious end.

There is not much question of dissatisfaction and unrest among the masses of the people. We can see it in other parts of Maine as well as in Aroostook county. In the nation at large the indications point to an opposition Congress. Some persons then will come to their senses and not advocate measures that are extreme and unreasonable and which cannot be enforced. The conditions are ripe for independent movements. The great trouble is that there are too many small bore politicians trying to fit into square holes—that is who are not qualified for the positions they seek. Such will not have the support of your —Uncle Lemuel.

Alphonse Colombe of Lewiston was in the Lewiston Municipal Court, Friday, charged with the possession of sixteen white perch in closed season. He was fined $100.00 and cost of $12.87, and $16.00 for sixteen fish. He paid the costs.

Norway Churches

Baptist

Thursday: C. E., 7.30. Topic, "How Jesus Made Leaders of His Disciples." Leader, Inez McAllister.

Sunday: Morning worship at 10:45, with sermon by the pastor. Bible School at 12. Evening meeting in the vestry, at 7.00.

The Home Department, avoiding the week of the Fourth, will not meet until Wednesday, July 9.

Universalist

Rev. Conrad B. Rheiner of Philadel- of Philadelphia, Pa., a candidate for the pastorate of the First Universalist church in Norway, will preach there next Sunday at 9:45 o'clock, daylight time. His subject will be "What is Enough?" This young minister has just returned from Waterloo, Iowa, where he was the minister of the Universalist church for two years. Previous going to Waterloo, the Rev. Mr. Rheiner served as a student pastor at Framingham, Mass., and as summer pastor at Lempster, N. H. He was born in Philadelphia. Until he began his theological studies at Tufts College, Medford, Mass., in September, 1926, he resided with his parents in that city. He was educated in the public schools there, graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree from the Central High School in 1920 and from the University of Pennsylvania with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1925. Immediately after his graduation from Crane Theological School at Tufts College in 1928, the Rev. Mr. Rheiner went to Europe on an independent tour, where he gathered material for travelogues and cultural lectures on painting, sculpture, architecture, and music, which lectures brought him prominence in his last parish. Mr. Rheiner is married.

Friday afternoon the Ladies' Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Harriet Waite, Whitman street, for work and a social hour. Further plans will be made for the summer sale.

Friday evening there will be another of the pleasant Parish-get-togethers at the church vestry, which will give all a chance to meet Rev. Conrad B. Rheiner. The hostesses are Mrs. Marguerite McIntire, Mrs. Marion Holt, Miss Marian Downing, Miss Marion Haskell, Mrs. Frances Twitchell, Mrs. Adeline Klain, Mrs. Mae Hutchins and Mrs. Florence Knightly. Those not solicited are asked to carry pastry.

The annual picnic was held Wednesday, at Tripp Lake, with a good attendance of children and older folks. Ball games, swimming and water sports were enjoyed. The special feature was the picnic dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McIntire will entertain the teachers and officers of the Sunday school at a picnic supper at Pine Lodge, Papoose Pond on Tuesday, July 1st.

The ladies of the Universalist church will hold a public food sale, Saturday afternoon at the Norway Buick salesrooms, next the post office, at 3 o'clock. Beans and brown bread and pastry will be featured. Mrs. Bessie Hill is chairman of the committee.

Methodist

10.30, morning service, Mr. Lyon preaches a gospel message. 12.00, church school; 6.15, Epworth League; 7.30, pastor's sermon-story of "Pilgrim's Progress" and a song service.

Friday evening, June 27, the First Quarterly Conference will be held at the Methodist Church. Rev. A. I. Oliver, the District Superintendent, will be in charge and also Mr. McIntire, one of the "Carrollers", who has been having such good success at Otisfield, will be here to give a short talk on "things religious." Everybody is invited to be present, especially the members of the Conference.

Despite the warm days, there has been a very good attendance at the Methodist Church and especially is this true of the evening services. Rev. Mr. Lyon has been giving a series of five very interesting story-sermons taken from the book "Pilgrim's Progress." Very much enthusiasm has been displayed and very many people have been present to hear the trials of the chief character, "Mr. Christian." Next Sunday evening, June 29, Mr. Lyon will give the last story, bringing Mr. Christan at last to the Celestal City. Mr. Lyon invites everybody to come out to hear this beautiful story. Remember the time is 7.30 o'clock.

The Methodist folks are preparing now for a glorious "camp meeting" this year at Poland. A very splendid program is in process of making and a big turn-out this year is expected. Rev. Mr. Lyon advises the good folks of Norway to plan their vacation time in order that they may be able to attend these great, inspiring meetings. Good music, good preaching, and a good place to enjoy spiritual and physical peace. The date set for the camp meeting is July 27, to Sunday, August 3rd, inclusive. Plan to be present. Everybody is invited to the camp.

Congregational

The Household committee of the Congregational church will meet Friday at Mrs. Philip Noble's cottage, which is located in "Sandy Cove" on the east shore of Lake Pennesseewassee. Covered dish lunch will be served at one o'clock. All ladies of the parish are invited. Mrs. Noble and Mrs. Charles F. Cummings are the committee on transportation.

"The Business of the Church" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Raymond Morgan at the Congregational Church, Sunday morning, at the 11 o'clock service. This will be Mr. Morgan's last sermon to be delivered in Norway.

The Sunday school picnic will be held Wednesday, July 2, at Tripp Lake, leaving the church at 10 o'clock. Ernest Moores is in charge of the outing. If stormy, Wednesday, it will be the next fair day.

June Weddings

Mann-Fletcher

Walter Maford Mann of Norway and Miss Florence Eleanor Fletcher of Lynn, Mass., were married June 21, at the home of the bride's parents in Lynn. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. Rose, D. D., pastor of the Lynn Universalist church, who used the double ring service. Mr. and Mrs. Warren J. Guild of Arlington, Mass., were matron of honor and best man. Only members of the immediate families were present.

The bride's gown was white georgette crepe, with tulle veil and she carried a shower bouquet of roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor wore peach georgette and her flowers were peach roses and blue Delphinium. An informal reception followed the ceremony with only the families present and lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Mann are spending their honeymoon at Rangeley Lakes and will be at home, 25 Highland Avenue, Norway, after July 12.

Mrs. Mann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh F. Fletcher of Lynn, Mass. She is a graduate of Lowell, Mass., high school and has been employed for some years by the New England Telephone Co., where she was pay roll supervisor of the central division. She is a member of the Eastern Star and attends the Universalist church.

Mr. Mann is the son of Mrs. Emma H. and the late Walter Mann of Norway. He is a graduate of Norway high school, class of 1908. For many years he was bookkeeper and clerk at the C. F. Ridlon store. During the past year he bought the Smith Shoe Store, one of the old established businesses in the village. He is a member of the Universa list church and a valuable worker in all the departments. He is affiliated with the Masonic lodge, chapter, council and Ark Mariners, and also Oxford Chapter, Order Eastern Star.

Hatch-Noble

Telegraphic announcement was received Wednesday morning of the marriage in Hartford, Conn., Tuesday evening, of Miss Lona E. Noble, R. N., formerly of Norway, and George Hatch of Hartford, Conn. This is the fourth surprise marriage of Norway people this month and as Miss Noble is a Norway girl and one of the very popular ones, her friends are much interested. Details of the wedding or the bridegroom are lacking as she had made a confident of no one as far as can be learned, not even her relatives knowing of her intentions.

The bride is the daughter of the late F. Marion and Myra P. (Hall) Noble of Norway. She was educated in the Norway schools, graduating from high school in 1907. She trained for a nurse in Portland hospitals, and for some time has been located in Hartford, Conn., returning to her home town for her vacations.

SOUTH PARIS NEWS

Dyer-Robertson

A very pretty June wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Robertson, Church street, Thursday, June 19, at 10 o'clock, when their only daughter, Miss Miriam Edna Robertson, became the bride of Ralph Forest Dyer of Otisfield. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. C. L. Kinney, pastor of Deering Memorial Methodist church, using the double ring service. The couple were unattended.

The bride was charming in a gown of pale green crepe de chene and carried an arm bouquet of yellow lilies and syringa blossoms. Only the immediate family were in attendance. The house was attractively decorated with garden flowers. A lovely wedding cake decorated with a miniature bride and bridegroom was cut by the bride. Many wedding gifts have been received by the couple.

As the bridal couple were about to depart on their honeymoon trip by automobile, a party of friends arrived unannounced, and amid congratulations and best wishes showered them with rice and confetti.

The bride is a graduate of South Paris high school in the class of 1923. Mr. Dyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Dyer of Otisfield.

Dorr-West

Miss Margaret West of Spring street, daughter of Lester A. West of South Paris, and Millard F. Dorr of Cape Elizabeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindon Dorr of Winterport, were married June 21, at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. Paul Bonney, on Deane street, Portland.

Rev. J. L. Wilson of Yarmouth officiated, using the double ring service. The couple were attended by Miss Frances West of Boston, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Howard H. Parlin of Portland as best man. Priscilla Bonney was flower girl.

The bride was gowned in white satin and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. The maid of honor wore robin's egg blue and the flower girl pink crepe de chine.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lester West and Mrs. Adna West of South Paris; Miss Frances West of Boston; Mrs. Linden Dorr and daughter, Catherine of Winterport; Mr. and Mrs. Denis Parlin and son, Emery, and Rev. L. N. Tillson of East Sumner; Mrs. Annie B. Small and sons, Ralph and Gilbert, and daughter, Mrs. Rachel Hawkes of South Windham; Miss Emma West of Eliot; Miss Elsie Emery of Portland.

Congratulations were also extended Mrs. Edward L. Greene, whose birthday was June 2, and Mr. and Mrs. Greene, whose 29th wedding anniversary was June 5.

A picnic dinner was much enjoyed, a large birthday cake with appropriate decorations being presented Mrs. Jones by her granddaughter, Miss Dorothy Wilbur. Group photos were taken of the party, which numbered fifteen and included Mrs. Abba E. Jones, Walter S. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilfred Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Greene, Miss Kathryn Greene, Miss Mildred Daly, Miss Dorothy Wilbur and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. J. Perley Robinson. Those unable to be present were Harold H. Walker, Miss Ruth Marsh and Mr. and Mrs. John Randall.

Rescued Child at Lake Tripp

Lewis Button of South Paris rescued a little girl at Lake Tripp, Sunday, after she waded beyond her depth and in danger of drowning.

The child wandered from a picnic party on the north shore and unobserved waded into deep water. Her cries were heard by Mr. Button and he plunged in quite unmindful of his new suit of clothes. The little girl was badly frightened and swallowed considerable water, but otherwise not hurt.

Mr. Button understood the party came from Portland, but in his hurry to get away from publicity, he failed to secure any names.

SUMNER

Owing to its being a busy season, I did not intend to drop in any stuff this week to take up any time of those who follow the occupation of farming. But just a short while back I got a personal letter from a party who had followed the occupation of writing for the press for more than forty years, and it was a friendly and very interesting letter I will tell you, and at the close this party said by looking over that sheet it seemed to be off color a bit. Now I will say that my paragraph in last week's issue in regard to the mill news certainly looks to be off color and I will endeavor to correct same at this time, wherein I said the mill started sawing upon June 19th, I should have said June the 12th.

Lionel Bartlett went to Rumford, Saturday morning with Olpha Varney with a load of pulp wood.

Donald Varney has secured work for his trucks, hauling spool stock from Weld to Dixfield for the Stowell Company, and Olpha Varney started in Monday morning, June 23, with the big Reo.

Oh, did you see Emerson Bartlett's toy dog, a present from an old friend in Mexico. Now this new dog's father is a German Police dog, and his mother a Great Dane, his name is Spitz, his color jet black, from the ground to the top of his head is about three feet, length from tip to tip nearly four feet. He is a child's companion and is most happy when in their company. While one could not truthfully say he is a common plaything for the public, and when approached by strangers does not possess the common dog characteristic of wagging his tail. He is only one year of age and we call him some puppy.

Mr. Waterhouse, engineer at the birch mill drove into the mill yard at 3:45 a. m., standard time, Monday morning. Just see what time that was by their daylight saving clock they go by at the mill.

Clyde Morrell, having recently finished working in the woods for Lell Poland, started for Weld Monday morning on foot to visit his sister, Mrs. John Libby.

Harry and Irving Bartlett were at South Paris, Sunday.

Tink Farrar, our local horse trader, swapped horses with that noted horse man, Albert Gallant of Rumford, not long ago.

HEBRON

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Munee and two children of South Paris have been spending several days at her mother's, Mrs. Edith Cushman's.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Keene and family were in Weld, Saturday.

Mrs. Grace Berry of Auburn spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Keene.

Mrs. F. H. Marshall and Mrs. W. F. Brown and daughter, Ruth, were in Lewiston and Auburn, Thursday.

Mrs. Edith Cushman has been spending a few days in Auburn, called there by the death of Hartley F. Cushman.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hibbs were in South Paris, Saturday.

Mrs. Evelyn Ross has been visiting her sister, Miss Dora Hibbs, at Livermore Falls.

WELCHVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Dorey motored to Lynn, Mass., Saturday, to visit their daughter, Mrs. Philip York. They were accompanied by Mrs. Annie Frye and Miss Roberta York, who remained for a longer visit.

Miss Margaret Avery has returned to her grandmother's home in East Oxford.

Thomas Avery, Jr., is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Guy Hannaford.

Miss Barbara Scribner visited Mrs. Albion Grover of East Oxford, over the week end.

NORTH WATERFORD

Kittredges Returned from New Hampshire—Series of Accidents—Thieves Still at Work.

Rev. and Mrs. W. I. Bull and three children have gone to Ocean Park for the week.

Marion Rowe and Bernice Chamberlin, former teachers here, have been guests of Mrs. Nora Dresser a few days.

Mrs. Maud Kittredge and four youngest children returned Sunday from a week's visit with relatives in Berlin, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Littlefield went to housekeeping in their new home, Thursday.

On account of the shower, Sunday evening, the services were held in the church instead of on the lawn, as planned. A little social was held after, in the vestry, in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Brandon. Lemonade and assorted cookies were served. There was a large attendance.

It seems Ralph Knight started in a series of accidents when his car left the road at the foot of Sampson Hill at 2 o'clock, Friday morning. Fortunately, he escaped with only a cut across the forehead and a few slight bruises on the face. Friday morning, a Mr. Decker went over the bank into the mill pond. He got out without injuries, but his car was some damaged, so had to be hauled to a garage. Friday, in the latter part of the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. George Eastman went into the woods with a new Essex car above Sampson Hill. Mrs. Eastman had a bone broken in her leg and Mr. Eastman was cut some about the face. Harry Brown came along and took Mrs. Eastman to the doctor's.

The thieves have not as yet let Ernest McGray's goods alone, for they were here again and took screws out of lock to door and entered and this time took dishes and no doubt other things. And another pretty small deed was done when someone filed off a chain that held a padlock to lock the gate, and stole at the Mrs. Hazelton's and Mrs. Marston's farm. They had a gate there to keep parties from driving through their fields and dooryard and it seems they could not keep out, even if there were gates.

Mrs. Frank Hatch and two children spent Friday at Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Hazelton's.

Mrs. Nellie Farmer, who has been at South Waterford for some time, has returned home. Mrs. Marilla Marston also returned home, Sunday, and is now with her daughter, Bernice Littlefield.

Annie B. Hazelton, Bernice Littlefield and Ruth and Bill Bull went to Albany to Sunday morning services with Mr. and Mrs. Brandon.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Littlefield went to Bethel and purchased a gasoline stove.

Dustin McAllister visited relatives in Lovell, last week.

Mrs. Fred Scribner and daughter, Beth, spent Friday with her cousin, Annie Hazelton. Mr. Scribner was a dinner guest there.

Bertha Kimball went to Waterford to work, Sunday. Mrs. Annie G. Pike spent the week end with her.

Horace Green of Paris is stopping at his uncle's, Will Fiske's.

Mrs. Ruth Fox is here at her brother's, Chester Holt's, for a few days.

North Waterford Primary School

School closed Friday, June 13, with Flag Day at Waterford Flat. Term enrollment was 33, average attendance for year 26. Edith Hobson, grade four, did not miss one day for the entire year. Agnes Brown, grade one, missed one-half day.

Rita Durgin, grade three, won first prize for wild flowers and tree buds with 286 different varieties. Marguerite Brown, grade three, won second prize with 187 different varieties. Bertha Hersey, grade three, won third place with 168, Charlotte Crouse, grade three, fourth place with 165. These found over 100 flowers, Ethel McAllister, Edith Hobson, Thersa Durgin, Hugh Durgin, Albert Weymouth, Agnes Brown, Erma Rich, Alton Rich, Richard Jones, William Hersey.

First prize for spelling went to Edith Hobson, grade two, with most 100 for year. Second prize for spelling to Agnes Brown, grade one. Highest average for fourth grade, Edith Hobson, A plus. Highest average for third grade, Rita Durgin, A minus. Highest average in I. A. division, Wiljo Paakanen, Thersa Durgin, William Andrews, William Bull, Alair Henley, Richard Jones. Highest average in I. B. division, Kurtland Lord, Killiam Hersey.

SOUTH WATERFORD

Mrs. Muller Dead—Annual Supper—Willards Entertained Florida Friends.

Maude B. Atherton of Providence, R. I., arrived in town on Friday, June 6th. She and her sister, Mrs. Orrie Monroe, are settled in the Atherton cottage for the summer. Miss Atherton, who has been critically ill in the Providence Hospital for many weeks this spring, is slowly gaining. It is hoped that our good Waterford air is to work a permanent cure.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Littlefield lost their baby girl when two weeks old.

Ethel Bell on Blackguard is still ill from throat infection. The Bells had the misfortune to lose one of their horses the past week. It dropped dead.

Merton Kimball has bought a new Ford truck, recently.

Mrs. L. R. Muller passed away on Monday night after a lingering illness. She was in her 88th year. The funeral was on Thursday afternoon. The many and beautiful flowers showed the love and esteem of relatives and friends. She was laid to rest in Elm Vale cemetery.

The Bear Mt. Library Association are to hold their third annual chicken pie supper and dance benefit on Friday night June 27th. Supper at the usual hour, 6:30, standard time. Music is to be by Andrews' orchestra.

Mrs. Martha P. Perry has spent the past week in Naples with her nephew, Rev. F. B. Lyman. She went to attend the burial of Frank Burnham of Belmont, Mass. Mr. Burnham is a nephew of Mrs. Perry, also a nephew of the late Robbins Longley of Waterford.

Many from this section attended the church service at the Albany church on Sunday morning, when Henry Merrill and members of his Thirteen Class conducted the services. Some remained at North Waterford and attended the Sunset service at 6:30 p. m.

Merton Brown of East Otisfield is driving the meat truck and doing other work for Merton Kimball.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jordan of Haverhill, Mass., were callers of Mrs. M. Etta Watson the past week.

Several attended the Trumbull Players' "Broken Dishes" at Harrison on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Carrie Kingman has returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Leslie Flint, at Norway Lake.

A heavy shower and high wind passed over our village on Thursday afternoon, strewing the lawns and roads with branches and twigs. A large branch of an elm at W. W. Abbot's was twisted off and fell on the house, fortunately no damage was done.

Mrs. Alfretta Abbott has been ill the past few days, but is better, now.

Little Vernon Craig, son of John Craig, of Farmington had a painful accident, when his thumb was shut into a car door. The bone was not broken, but badly crushed. The Craigs were here over the week end with their aunts, Mrs. Monroe, Mrs. Plummer and Miss Atherton.

Mrs. Mary Howard returned home from Washington, D. C., where she has spent the last ten months with her nieces, on Tuesday. She came with her nieces, Mrs. Ella Nichols and Mrs. Florence Dodson, coming by motor. Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Dodson returned home on Thursday.

A dressmaker from Portland has been with Mrs. W. K. Hamlin this past week, sewing for Mrs. Hamlin and her daughter, Mrs. Carrie Haynes and Mrs. A. L. Sanderson of Harrison.

Miss Della Lynn from Woodfords has spent the past week with Mrs. Pheobe Hapgood. Miss Lynn went to Black Point Inn at Prouts Neck on Sunday, where she is to work during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Willard entertained eleven of their Florida friends at the summer home on Blackguard on Sunday.

Callers at Mrs. Pheobe Hapgood's on Saturday were Mrs. Chas. Richardson and her daughter, Mrs. Raymond.

Raymond Sanderson and wife of Stoneham, Mass., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haynes and calling on friends in this vicinity this past week.

Leon York had a party of three men, Mr. Kouvenhoven, Mr. Howard and Mr. Walker, guiding over the week end. They stopped with the Yorks. They have caught three salmon thus far.

Ethel M. Dana of Portland arrived at the York Farm the first of the week for the summer.

Helen Stevens has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. C. Goodwin, this past week.

Carl Heath is ill with a sore throat.

Mrs. Eliza Charles is still in a critical condition in St. Barnabas Hospital. No improvement in her condition.

cine! I hardly had energy enough to walk around the house, nearly everything I ate disagreed with me, I suffered with chronic constipation and was weak and listless all the time. In three weeks Sargon made me like a different person. It gave me a splendid appetite, toned up my stomach and now I never have a trace of indigestion. I've gained 10 pounds and have so much more strength and energy I keep busy at my housework all morning.

"I have to take only about one Sargon Pill a week now to keep me regulated perfectly."—Mrs. Effie M. Russell, 12 Vesper St., Portland, Maine.

Would You Lose Although Insured?
People sometimes forget that properties increase in value . . . that added furniture, furnishings and household equipment swell the total of their holdings.
Insurance placed ten or even five years ago very often does not cover present-day values.
Unprotected losses sometimes wipe out a family's resources.
Let us make sure your insurance is up to the present time.

WEST PARIS—TRAP CORNER

Gellatly-Mikkonen Wedding

Olga Mari, oldest daughter of Mrs. Katri Mikkonen of West Paris and Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Gellatly, of Watertown, Mass., were united in marriage, Saturday evening, June 21, at 9 o'clock at the Finnish Congregational church at West Paris. Pastor Jaakko Rinta performed the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in ivory satin and carried calla lilies. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Dana Grover. Miss Sylvia Mikkonen, in a gown of silver blue lace, was maid of honor and the other three sisters, Miina, dressed in yellow, Alma in orchid and Hilma in peach color, were flower girls. The groom was attended by his brother, Roger Gellatly of Massachusetts, and the ushers were Walter Mikkonen, Waino Heikkinen and Toivo Maatta, cousins of the bride.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gellatly are graduates of the Faelton Pianoforte School of Boston and at present are teaching music. Mrs. Gellatly has a large class of piano pupils in Quincy, Mass., and Mr. Gellatly teaches in Boston. They are on a weeks trip along the Maine coast and after spending the summer in West Paris they will return to their work.

About 250 people attended the wedding, after which a reception was held and refreshments if ice cream, cake, coffee, punch, candy and cirgars were served. The wedding cake was made by Mrs. Lauri Immonen.

Out of town guests were Mis Antoinette Getchell and Miss Maud Carter of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. J. Nelson, Quincy, Mr. and Mrs. Kyllonen, Quincy, Rev. and Mrs. Raita, Thomaston, Rev. and Mrs. Miettinen, Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Pulkkinen and family, Livermore Falls, Mrs. F. H. HANNIBAL HAMLIN'S LAW OFFICE

Some of the statements in the sketch about Hannibal Hamlin's old law office in last weeks Advertiser are not correct. The old law office of Hannibal Hamlin, cherished by his descendants, a cut of which may be seen in "The Life and Times of Hannibal Hamlin" by his grandson, Charles E. Hamlin, is in the town of Hampden, situated on the Penobscot River, five miles below Bangor. It was a boxlike building in the style of such law offices as were quite numerous in Maine a century ago. Over the door was this sign,

"H. Hamlin
Office"

He never had an office of his own in which he practised law in Oxford County. He did try one case for Joseph G. Cole in whose office he was for a time, and where, perhaps, he was for some weeks after his admission to the bar. Mr. Cole happened to be called away and Mr. Hamlin reluctantly managed the affair for Cole's client, when he found he had opposed to him, Stephen Emery, whose daughter, Sarah, he intended sometime to make his bride. It would seem from the account of the trial that Judge Emery had not given his consent for his daughter to marry the young man, for managing his side of the suit so well as to convince him that he would make a successful lawyer, Judge Emery is reported to have said that Hamlin "had won both his case and a wife on the same day." Judge Emery lived to see his distinguished son-in-law Governor of Maine, United States Senator and Vice President of the United States.

Hannibal Hamlin was fitted for the practice of the law in the office of Fessenden & Deblois at Portland. The senior member of the firm was Gen. Samuel Fessenden, leader of the old Liberty party in Maine and one of the ablest lawyers of his day. On Hamlin's admission to the bar in the early summer of 1833, he sought a place in Eastern Maine to begin practice. He married in December of that year, Miss Emery, and settled first at Lincoln, but very soon removed to Hampden. From there, not Paris, he went to the Legislature, where he commenced his political career which lasted over forty years. —C. F. Whitman.

THOUGHTS OF THE LATE FLORENCE L. DOUGHTY

Her candle burned low,
On the last eve of Spring,
The Angels were singing,
Their voices did ring.

Lay down life's burden,
With the heat of the day,
The gates are now open,
We will show you the way.

And with smile so glad, yet cheerful,
Answered to that welcome call,
Seeing through the veil of mystery,
Waved a farewell to us all.

In the goodness of His mercy,
Waiting on the golden stair,
Surely He will give her new feet,
To find her way up there.

SOUTH ALBANY

Dresser School Reunion—Meserve Moved to Farm—Bear Seen.

Saturday, June 21st was the day of the Dresser school reunion. The weather was not very good and there was a sprinkle of rain in the morning, but this did not discourage many who had planned on the day there. Before noon the rain let up and trees and grass dried out so they were able to have the dinner and exercises by the children under the pines across the road from the schoolhouse. This is about the only time during the year that some of us meet and is looked forward to as a red letter day on the calendar. Two of the older ones were heard to remark "as long as you and I live and can get here we are coming every year". One of the "boys" said to another who attended school with him, here, nearly sixty years ago, "Why this room isn't nearly as big as it was when you and I went to school here. Those back seats are down here a good ways nearer than they were then".

As our horizon widens our childhood distances measure smaller, as the years go by old friends grow dearer, and we long for the old faces as the end draws nearer. Sixty people sat down to the table and disposed of the variety of good things with plenty of lemonade furnished by the school. After they were at the table all united in singing the doxology, led by Mrs. Roy Wardwell. After dinner the following program was given by the school children, who had been evidently well trained by the teacher, Miss Frances Holt:

Song, "Father, We Thank Thee"
Rec., Grandfather's Garden..Huldah Stearns
Recitations.....Betty Hill, Margaret Hill
Rec., Granpa's Spectacles....Beatrice Canwell
Song, "America the Beautiful".....School
Rec., People Will Talk.....Lucie Kimball
Rec., How Maud Muller Set the Hen.....
.....Louise McAllister
Recitations..Harold Merrill, Albert Raymond
Song, Mother Goose.....Four girls
Recitation.....Genie Hill
Play, Teaching the Sunday School.....School
Recitations.....Sylvia Bird, Madelyn Bird
Song, Star Spangled Banner.....School

After this baseball, races and games were played until the parting hour. Then adjourned until next year on the same day we hope to meet every one again. We missed some of the old faces and were glad to greet some new ones to fill the vacant places.

Dexter Flint was missed this year as since our last meeting he has joined the Grand Reunion beyond. Three were present, who had been teachers in this school in the past, Mrs. Nora Dresser, Mrs. Ernest Brown and Mrs. Alta Bird Meserve. James Kimball, now in his eightieth year, was a member of the school committee some fifty-five years ago and was sometimes called upon to quell the disturbances between the big boys who attended school at that time and the teachers. The troubles were invariably settled amicably between the conflicting parties.

Bert Flint of Bisbeetown is at work for Preston Flint, cutting pulp wood.

Ernest Grover and family were in Lewiston, Saturday.

Mrs. Ezra Lebroke is expecting a visit from her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Webber of Seattle, Wash., in a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meserve and two daughters, Sylvia and Madelyn Bird, of Lovell, have moved to the W. W. Bird place, which they have bought. They will spend the summer here.

Mrs. Ernest Brown reports seeing a large bear in the road near their house early Tuesday morning. The bear was first seen in a pasture below the road, just beyond the barn. Then he came out and crossed the road and went off across the field up the mountainside. He stopped and looked around several times and went off leisurely as if afraid of nothing.

CORRUGATED ROOFING

IS TAKING THE PLACE OF ALL OTHER KINDS OF ROOFING

Corrugated Roofing is laid right over the old shingles at about one-third the cost of putting on other kinds of roofing. The large sheets are nailed on with 2 1-2 inch galvanized nails.

No staging is necessary in laying corrugated roofing, just use a roof ladder and move across the roof as the sheets are laid.

FIREPROOF

Sparks falling on corrugated roofing can do no damage. Neither can fire burn up through and damage other buildings.

A LIFETIME ROOF

Corrugated Roofing puts an end to all roofing troubles. After a building is once covered with corrugated roofing, there is no necessity to climb up onto the roof again. Our roofing contains copper and is heavily galvanized, top and bottom, which prevents rusting.

ANYONE CAN LAY CORRUGATED ROOFING

A ladder and a hammer are all that is necessary. Anyone who can drive nails can lay corrugated roofing.

Send us the measure of your roof and we will give you the exact cost, landed on your place.

P. J. Saner, chiropodist and foot specialist from Florida has rooms at the Highland Apartments, Bridgton. See ad. in this issue.

Allie A. Richards has placed an ad in this issue for the sale of second-hand furniture, also to buy some. He is also a licensed auctioneer. See ad.

George Dunn, Jr., who is in charge of building the Norway Country Club golf course, plans to have eight holes ready for play on July 4th. Mr. Dunn has placed an ad. in this issue. Read it.

Bill Libby at the Cummings grain mill picked up a yale key on the street. Might fit a door or post office box. He wouldn't trust it our museum, so owner may get it from his key ring.

Rain and surprise showers are responsible for a slump in baseball games lately. The Lisbon game at the fair grounds last Thursday went into default and tickets were given back. Now those tickets or rain checks will be honored at the gate only for the Wilton game this Thursday afternoon (June 26). This is practically free admission and a bargain.

Arthur Luce and Raymond Langway of Dodge, Mass., called Tuesday to use the Intelligence Column for the return of a dog. They are camping on Jewett Pond in Waterford with a party and had the misfortune to lose their curley haired mascot. Read the ad. in the Intelligence Column for particulars. When the pet is found, notify Roy Lord at North Waterford.

Walter A. Sanborn, editor of the Lansdale Reporter, Lansdale, Pa., made us a call, Friday morning. He had been attending commencement exercises at Bowdoin and was spending a short time with relatives in town. He plans to visit Norway later in the summer, during his regular vacation, when he and Mrs. Sanborn will make the trip by auto.

Of the thirty-seven postal cards sent out for the returns of primary election to the town clerks of Oxford County, twenty-seven were returned as requested (immediately after election) one came the day after the paper was printed and the other nine town clerks failed to send in the returns from their town. For some years this method has been used, but a new way will have to be resorted to because of the indifference of one-fourth of the town clerks, who fail to reply, thus making the returns incomplete.

The bird described in "Heard and Seen" by the subscriber from East Otisfield, appears to be the Starling, as that bird is 2-3 the size of a robin, very dark in color, has a yellow bill, waddles when it walks, and nests in concealed places around buildings. "Squawk" well describes the voice, but one sometimes hears a whistle, which cannot be located, strangely like the human variety and most pleasing. But the visitor is not altogether a desirable one unless it remains solitary, for in numbers they are destructive, noisy and untidy to have about. M. M., Cambridge, Mass.

The green beryl crystal recently uncovered at the Bumpus quarry in Albany is a world beater and a champion over the huge specimens discovered last summer. With a diameter of six feet, and a length of sixteen feet already uncovered the new crystal can easily claim the championship in the mineral world.

As a matter of fact this is not a single crystal, but a mass of small crystals compressed in one solid lump. Blasting is the only way of separating the units. The beryl is embodied in a feldspar matrix, nearby is milky and rose quartz, with a large module of iron mica schist jammed sometime by a tremendous force.

Sunday is visitors' day at the mine, when blasting and other activities are not in order.

C. M. Bradbury of Denmark, says: "In reply to the paragraph in your 'Heard and Seen' column about the bird seen in East Otisfield by a subscriber, may I say that I believe the bird to be a Starling. The long yellow bill and the yellow feet are characteristics of this bird, and the color is a metallic green and purple, heavily spotted with buff or white above and below—more so in winter than in summer. Chester A. Reed, in his pocket bird guide says: 'These European birds were introduced into New York a number of years ago, and are now common there and spreading to other localities. They build their nests in crevices of buildings. How they will affect other bird life is a matter of conjecture, in case they become common throughout the country, but from what I have seen of them they are quarrelsome and are masters of the English Sparrow, and may continue their domineering tactics to the extent of driving more of our song birds from the cities.'

"Frank M. Chapman says: 'A long-drawn whistle such as one calls to a dog, is the Starling's most common note, but it has many others. It nests in April and the young appear in mid-May. Their harsh, rasping food-call is a common note for several weeks. The Starling is a quick, active bird, probing the ground, now this side, now that, as it walks rapidly over our lawn. The short tail and the long wings are most noticeable in the air, and distinguish the Starling from our other black birds.' The length of the Starling is 8 1-2 inches."

BETHEL

Levi Needham Bartlett

Levi Needham Bartlett, Civil War veteran, died Tuesday morning. Mr. Bartlett has been in failing health for several years, but was confined to his bed for only a few days. He has been cared for by Mrs. Helen Berry.

He was born in Greenwood, Sept. 18, 1845, the son of Sylvanus and Mary Jane (Howe Martin) Bartlett. On May 27, 1875, he was united in marriage with Miss Rowena Mae Whitman of Bethel, who died several years ago. Four children were born of this union, Lizzie Grace, Maude A., Earl (who died when a young man) and Erva.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett after their marriage, went to live on a farm on Grover Hill, where they remained for many years. Some years ago they moved to Bethel village, where Mr. Bartlett lived at the time of his death.

He was a member of the Methodist church and a constant attendant as long as health permitted. A member of the G. A. R., and Bethel Grange.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Grace Tyler, of Bethel, Mrs. Maude Rice of Lewiston, Mrs. Erva Greene of Waterville and by two grandchildren.

After the election of officers, Mr. Morgan explained the work of the organization. A committee consisting of one representative from each church was then chosen to draw up the constitution. It was suggested that they go to Waterford some evening to have a devotional and a social gathering.

Plans will be perfected this summer to hold a covered dish supper and a meeting some time next fall. It is hoped that Captain Laughton or one of his representatives will be present at this time.

OXFORD—FORE STREET

Twitchells Attended Conference—Improving Buildings—Lovejoy Working at South Paris.

Mrs. Melissa Twitchell Giles and three daughters of Skowhegan are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Twitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Twitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Ai Twitchell and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brown attended conference at Bridgton last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Pray of Mechanic Falls were Sunday evening callers at E. E. Twitchell's.

Flora Cummings has returned from a four weeks visit with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Judkins of North Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Judkins Cummings and family of West Paris were at E. E. Twitchell's and Flora Cummings', Sunday.

Mrs. Mildred Twitchell is dressmaking for Mrs. Chestina Twitchell.

Leon Twitchell's sons, Albert and Thomas, are recovering from their sickness. Albert had a grip cold, Thomas was bitten by a dog.

The Gomands, who live on the Bailey place, lately occupied by John Grover, are renewing it inside and out and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stearns, who live on the Allen place, are clapboarding it anew, building a front porch. All this and the Wilson girls having their summer home open, makes this end of Oxford, Fore street, cheerful.

Cherries are not ripe, but the strawberries are red, both field and cultivated. Leon Twitchell is getting quarts from theirs to sell along with green peas that he's been having for days and days on the market.

Elmer Twitchell made his usual trip to Portland, Monday, with Parsons the express man. Seems good to see Mr. Twitchell about his usual business after being confined to the house nearly all winter.

Gardens and crops are looking fine on this street. The wet weather of late, being good for this soil, even the mosquitos and black flies flourish and make themselves numerous whenever a mortal ventures outside the door.

A telephone has been installed in Roy Stearns' home.

Alvin Lovejoy, our green house man has closed up for the season and commenced work as last year, for Frank Goldsmith of South Paris, working on Goldsmith's land and later assisting in the corn shop. Lucky, indeed is one who can get a trusty man like neighbor Lovejoy, to stand by.

Walt Whitman

One's-Self I Sing

One's-self I sing, a simple separate person,
Yet utter the word Democratic, the word En-Masse.
Of physiology from top to toe I sing,
Not physiognomy alone nor brain alone is worthy for the Muse.
I say the Form complete is worthier far,
The Female equally with the Male I sing.
Of Life immense in passion, pulse, and power,
Cheerful, for freest action form'd under the laws divine,
The Modern Man I sing.

"I shall be," said Walt Whitman, "the poet of the future."

As the anniversary of the birth of the Father of American Poetry draws near, it might not be amiss to inquire into what has been the influence exert by "Leaves of Grass" in the 75 years since Whitman first shocked the land with his "barbaric yawp."

The Father of American Poetry? The Poet of the Future? The Real Interpreter of America? Is Walt Whitman the answer?

There have been at least three tragedies against Whitman and of these three the poet's everlasting egoism calls forth the strongest derogation. The overpowering "I" soon becomes most objectionable and otherwise ardent admirers from this alone, toss him aside as a bragging egoist. But a careful analysis of Walt's character as seen in his work, and one can see that, after all, perhaps he is not so self-centered as might seem. We can see the first personal pronoun as standing for man in general—a symbol for Mankind. His "I" is the masculine expression of God in Nature. It is essentially natural for man to be robust and healthy, to show his strength, and to express himself according to dictates of Mother Nature. And Whitman glorifies everything that heretofore had been taboo in American poetry and in so doing he shocked the country with his frank speech, and he particularly incurred the enmity of New England poets.

Yet there was the apparent anomaly of Emerson's almost immediate recognition of the genius of this shouter of democracy and the commonplace. And actually, Walt was what we might call the animal expression of Emerson or the living organism of the Emerson philosophy. These two, in spite of the gap between the Aristocratic Concord Sage and the rough and ready tramp of the open road, had much in common. Thus when Walt came along with his yap about "man" and the sacredness of the human body, singing Democracy and "Life immense in passion, pulse and power," Emerson found in him all that he had hinted and subtly suggested breaking forth in fearless unconcern for rule or rhyme or rigid reasoning.

In yawping about himself, Whitman made articulate the whole race of Americans. His love of the common, though often seeming to extend to vulgarity, gave his expression of ordinary life an immense and cosmic scope (Does not Carl Sandburg seem to be the contemporary counterpart of Whitman?) In his omnivorous scooping up of subjects for his poems the industrial poet of America surely comes very near the singing Democracy of the Good Gray poet.

Whitman has been fundamental in molding and shaping the character of our poetry as it is today. With "Leaves of Grass" began the present movement in realism and the influence of this work is too obvious to be denied. Even a casual survey of a few of our contemporaries will reveal the varied range of subject matter and the absence of rigid, stereotyped form in verse. This does not mean that we are writing entirely without regard for the established canons of poetry, nor does it mean that all beauty of form and rhythm is cast aside. But today we are writing more with expression than thinking on form and meter. Any number of poems from contemporaries can be cited which show the beauty that comes from a freer and more abandoned mood in writing, yet withal, certainly not done without some perspiration!

Though Whitman was at once acclaimed in England, "Leaves of Grass" and the Whitman idea was not accepted with favor in his own country, and Walt found that many schemes had to be used to put the book over to the people. Even today is still the "future" and Whitman yet remains to be thoroughly understood. He did not expect followers, nor did he ask for them, for he felt that he was to be "the poet of the future"

But what Whitman did seek was additional and further "originals". In other words he wanted more men to "be themserves". And this reminds me of another "original", another "ordinary man" out of our own New England. But there I am getting ahead of my theme!

Whitman realized:

"Not today is to justify me and answer what I am for,
But you, a new brood, native, athletic continental, greater than before known Arouse! for you must justify me."
—Henry Davis Nadig.

DAUGHTER OF PROMINENT OXFORD COUNTY PHYSICIAN TAKES HIGHEST HONORS AT OAK GROVE

Barbara Zerua White, the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. V. O. White of East Dixfield, has returned home after commencement week at Oak Grove, where she was the valedictorian of the largest class ever graduated in the history of Oak Grove. Miss White entered Oak Grove in 1926 and immediately distinguished herself for high scholarship, having won the silver cup each commencement for the last four years for the highest rank in her class. As a matter of fact, Miss White has made a collection of silver cups while at Oak Grove, having won in addition three larger silver cups for the highest rank in the entire school as well as special honors in mathematics, Latin and English, for the highest rank in those subjects.

While Miss White is pre-eminently a scholar, she has also found time for extra-curricula activities and has been a member of the class basket ball team for four years, during the last two of which she has been manager, and of hockey for the last three years. Miss White has played in the orchestra for the last three years and has also been active in the Christian Association. Miss White has meanwhile developed histrionic talent and has appeared in declamations, pageantry and class plays as well as the Sophomore declamations and Junior reading. Miss White is enrolled at Bates College.

On account of an outbreak of German measles in the parish, it has been decided to cancel the Fourth of July celebration, the all-parish affair announced to be held at the Harbor church.

The Rev. and Mrs. Walter Pavy returned on Friday from the Summer School held at Bangor Seminary, for the intensive study of the rural church, rural sociology, and rural economics. Ministers and students from every state of New England were present. Mr. Pavy told of some of the facts of the school at West Fryeburg, Sunday night, and will talk about the church and the farmer at next Sunday's services.

The Rev. and Mrs. Clifford Cross expect to leave for part of their vacation this week end and will attend the International Convention of Kiwanis at Atlantic City while away.

On account of the absence of Mr. Cross there will be no service at Fryeburg Harbor next Sunday morning. Mr. Pavy will preach at Lovell and North Fryeburg at the usual times in the morning, and the service at Stow will be held at 3:30 p. m., instead of 9:30 a. m. The Union Hill service will be held as usual at 2:00 p. m.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the United Parish Council will be held on Wednesday, July 2nd, at the Library, North Fryeburg. All representatives are asked to do their utmost to be present or arrange for their alternates to come. The Rev. Cymbrid Hughes, Superintendent of the Portland M. E. District will be present. Full announcements will be made at the services on Sunday.

The Rev. Cymbrid Hughes will also hold the First Quarterly Conference of the Fryeburg Harbor church, Wednesday evening, prior to the public meeting.

PROPOSED NEW LAW FOR CROSSING CANADIAN BORDER

Maine will have sixty-one ports of entry from Canada, New Hampshire will have one, and the whole United States will have about three hundred and fifty if Congress enacts the so-called Hoch bill prepared after consultation with the Treasury officials. The same bill provides for a border patrol of approximately twenty-five hundred officers and men, of whom one hundred and forty-seven will be in the Calais section, ninety-five in the Fort Kent section and the forty-two in the Jackman section of Maine, while tthe Rouse's Point section coverink the border along New Hampshire, Vermont and New York States will have about one hundred and fifty. Any work along the border of Oxford County will be under the direction of officers stationed at Jackman.

The bill is now before the House of Representatives, and is the subject of a heated dispute. An important modification that is sought by Congressmen from districts along the border is the preservation of the present status of free crossing by the regular highways and by navigable waters like the St. John and St. Lawrence rivers, where travel by automobile and by small boats is the custom.

One old newspaper man says "names is news" and he is almost one hundred per cent. correct.

Handles Easier— Does Better Work

John Deere High-Lift Mower
(Equipped with Tongue Truck)

If you want to do a better job of mowing this year and for many years to come, go into your fields with a John Deere High-Lift Mower equipped with the quick-turn tongue truck.

The quick-turn tongue truck saves the horses and results in better work. The flexibly-mounted axle permits truck wheels to hold to the ground. There is no neck weight on the horses, and whipping of pole is eliminated. The truck always keeps the front end of mower frame at the correct height.

The improved lift on the John Deere is surprisingly easy to operate. By only slight pressure on the foot-lift you raise the bar high enough to pass over ordinary obstructions and when you put the hand-lift into use, the bar is easily raised to extreme height—the inner shoe is raised high enough to pass over any obstruction that can be cleared by the doubletrees and the knife continues to operate in this position.

Other advantages include balanced drive gears, which reduce wear and insure smooth running; special location of bevel pinion, which prevents end thrust; and 21-point clutch, which insures instant starting. All adjustments are made with ordinary tools.

We'll be glad to show you this improved mower.

How the Burglars Were Bagged

By C. F. Whitman

On their way to the railroad station, Charley wanted to know what was up. Tom told him what he had heard the tramps say about breaking into his father's clothing store that night, and he wanted to ascertain whether they had been seen around the station.

"Are you going to be in the store when the thieves break in?" eagerly inquired Charley.

"I expect so," answered Tom. "I'm that must be the reason that your father wanted me to stay at your house instead of my going to Mr. Woodman's hotel. Of course he does not know yet that I'm trustworthy, and seems inclined to think that my story may turn out to be a fake, and he don't want to be laughed at for being taken in by a wandering guy or a knight of the road. You see he might think I wanted a job to watch in the store and it would be plausible enough for a fake story that the alleged burglars were frightened away for a season to account for their failing to show up you see. I am confident we shall learn something of their movements at the station, for I saw them take the lower road in that direction, and if there is going to be any breaking, I hope it will be tonight, when we will be prepared for them."

"Gee, Tom, won't that be great? If you are in it, I want to be, too. It will be a great lark, that don't occur every night, and I don't want to miss it."

"Yes, I want you with me and of course you will be. It will take all three of us, I imagine, to secure the tramps. Not one must escape."

"Father evidently expects you to go ahead and I shall insist on going with you and taking a part in the show. What is your plan?"

"When we go back to the station we will talk it over with Mr. Benton and decide what's best to do. Here comes are at the station."

They noticed a number of people standing around the railroad station, and Tom said in a low tone, as they approached the least one of the gang.

"There, that fellow, see what I mean?"

"Keep cool, Tom, don't get excited, or in that way you will start every one around the station suspecting you. Don't look at him and his pals. See here, suppose we pull off what you propose, but without letting them suspect our intentions. Let's go into the store, if you can help it, and if any one moving about to frighten the tramps off. We want to bag the whole bunch tonight."

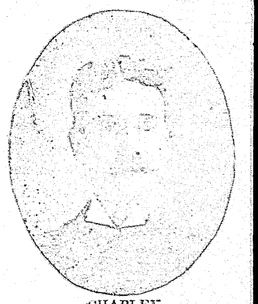

"I understand, Charley, and I will do my part and see that the lights are burning near there at the hour. We'll worry about my part in the affair. There'll be no slip up by you are to be. Mr. Titus," replied Charley, "we have no fear that you will in your duty."

Tom suggested to Charley that he better borrow a revolver of the officer if he had an extra one to spare. constable said that he had two good ones all loaded with ball cartridges in every chamber and he would let Charley have one of them, which he did.

The trip down town had been remarkably successful as Mr. Benton declared upon hearing the account of what had been done. The plan of operations talked over and decided upon. Mr. Benton, Tom and Charley were to get the store by a back way, at about two o'clock—Tom to be stationed which right of the window, through which the tramps were expected to try to enter the store. Charley on the left of the door to render Tom any assistance required. Mr. Benton at the next window to the alarm if the thieves should try to enter there, and to assist in securing them.

Tom was given the revolver, with the admonition not to use it except in the case of extreme necessity. He told Charley that he expected to knock down the first robber who entered, and he (Charley) must then take care of him and pass him over to his father. The second one he would stun and turn over to him, and the third one must be secured with the aid of the officer or as circumstances would permit.

After this general understanding, they went into the music room, where Mrs.

CHARLEY

"There is one thing more to do, Charley, and that is, to see an officer. Who shall we find one?" Tom asked.

"Harry Titus is the one we want, think, as he lives on the other side of street from the clothing store and can on the watch from his own house."

"Good! We will call there," said Tom.

The officer was at home, and Charley, who was put forward again as spokesman, told him of the contemplated burglary, and asked him to be on the watch and ready if he heard any commotion across the street about one o'clock in the night, to get into the game and arrest the criminals and he, his father and Tom, would help him secure them, and added: "Don't let any lights be seen from the street, if you can help it, and any one moving about to frighten the tramps off. We want to bag the whole bunch tonight."

"...e is one thing more to do, Charley, and that is, to see an officer. Where shall we find one?" Tom asked.

The second one he would stun and turn over to him and the third one must be secured with the aid of the officer or as circumstances would permit.

After this general understanding, they went into the music room, where Miss Benton was already seated at the piano.

"Shall we have some music now, Mr. Hadley?" she asked.

"If you please, I am at your service, Miss Benton," he replied.

"Let us try 'Beautiful Isle of Somewhere,'" she said.

Charley sang tenor, Tom bass and Miss Benton, soprano. She also played an accompaniment on the piano with so fine and delicate a touch of the keys that it greatly enhanced the effect of the splendid voices of the singers. As the last stanza was sung, Mrs. Benton exclaimed, "I've never heard that fine song rendered so well. Have you, Jarvis?"

"Never, Mary. How nicely their voices blend and how they bring out the lights and shades. That's what makes good music so enjoyable."

MRS. BENTON

"Sing next, if you please," said Mrs. Benton, 'The Wind Blows in From the Sea.' Let's see how well you can sing that."

"Shall we try that, Mr. Hadley?" inquired the young lady.

"Certainly, if your mother wishes it," he replied.

The singing, if possible, was better than before—the principal credit for which was due to Miss Benton, for she had the leading part and the accompaniment. Mr. Benton was greatly delighted. "Well, well, Mary, I like this singing immensely. Try 'Morning Land', children." That beautiful hymn was sung with a pathos, which brought the moisture into the eyes of the listeners.

"Ah, Mary, if we could only have such singing in our church as that, there wouldn't be so many empty pews on Sunday as now," Mr. Benton declared.

After a few more selections Tom sang two or three snappy songs he had learned at the institute, while he thrummed on the guitar with Miss Benton chiming in with a piano accompaniment. This was very entertaining. Tom complimenting her, said that his little sister, Bessie, had done that same thing with some effect at home and added that he wished she could receive instructions from her. And Miss Benton had replied that she would be delighted to render her any assistance in her power were it possible. Maude and her mother knew then from Tom's mention of his sister that it was her photograph that Annie had seen. So the evening passed most agreeably to all.

The hour came for Mr. Benton and the boys to go to the store. The moon had set and clouds had shut out the stars as they entered the building by the back way and took their places to meet the anticipated attack of the burglars. Time passed slowly with the watchers in considerable suppressed excitement as might well be supposed. Mr. Benton had some doubts whether it was not his duty to take the most dangerous part in the affair, but as Tom had at first been given the leadership in the matter and had made his plans seemingly so well, he did not think it best at that stage of the proceedings to make any change, but he expressly charged Tom to be very careful about using the revolver, and if it became necessary to shoot any of the criminals to prevent getting injured himself, to fire at their legs or arms to disable them, but not to kill any of them. And then, too, Mr. Benton had never been used to firearms while Tom had from shooting at marks and in hunting. He concluded, after all, that Tom in such an emergency as the present, from his apparent coolness and good judgement would act much better than himself.

The time passed slowly, Charley had a watch with an electric face, so that he could see its hands in the dark and note the time. This he gave every little while to Tom and his father.

Tom was in some apprehension lest the burglars should be frightened away and not attempt to break into the building. In such a case his story would not be credited, and he would be criticised, and fall under suspicion. He wanted the crisis to come and he nerved himself to meet it. At one o'clock he whispered to Charley:

"Keep cool, old man, and be ready to act quickly." Five minutes passed—ten minutes. Tom became impatient. Soon, however, a slight sound at the window, followed by a heavier one startled the listeners in the store as they realized that the crisis of the affair was at hand. The lower sash of the window squeaked, then moved as it yielded to some instrument that was being used to pry it up. Up, up it went, its whole length, till it was caught and held in place by its fastening.

"Help me in Jock," said the leader of the tramps in a low voice, "and follow me." He clutched at the inside of the window frame for a hold and swung himself in with Jock's help from behind. Then he turned and was pulling Jock in with the third one pushing him, when Tom struck the leader a determined blow behind the ear with his fist, which felled him to the floor, where he was seized and held by Charley and turned over to Mr. Benton. Jock, half way over the window sill, was dealt a sharp blow from the butt of Tom's revolver, which temporarily stunned him, when he was taken in charge by Charley. Pete, at this turn of events, aware that the affair was a losing one, took to his heels, but Tom was too quick for him and firing two shots in succession, he heard the tramp fall to the ground with a groan. The officer soon appeared upon the scene. He thought from a hasty examination of the man's wound that only one of the bullets had taken effect and that the wound was not serious. Then he handcuffed him. Rube, with Jock, who had been pulled into the store through the window were similarly treated and both taken to the lockup. By this time the people in the whole neighborhood were aroused and came flocking around the wounded man, to ascertain what the rumpus was about. Mr. Benton's first care after the leader of the gang and Jock had been given into officer Titus' custody,—was to see how badly the wounded man had been injured. He sent a boy for Dr. Ivan Stuart, a skillful surgeon, and was stopping the flow of blood by pressing his thumb upon the vein above the wound, when the surgeon arrived. Finding no bones broken, a stout cord replaced Mr. Benton's thumb, and Pete was taken to the lockup, where his pals were.

The constable was greatly elated at ...is part in the affair, and he said to Mr. ...nton: "Great job, sir, this will be for ... a big send off. I am very grateful ... the young men came to me to ar... ...the burglars. Nothing like it has ...ed in this burg."

"...Harry, you did your part ad... ...and it may make you a deputy sheriff," replied Mr. Benton.

"What, Mr. Benton, do you think I could get to be a deputy?" he eagerly asked.

"No doubt of it, Harry, and something better, perhaps, later on, if a few of us ask for your appointment. But I didn't know that you cared for the office."

"Well, I do, Mr. Benton. It's the height of my ambition. I know, sir, what you say in this community goes, and that's a fact."

"All right, Harry, I'll bear what you say in mind."

"Now boys," (to Tom and Charley) "I guess we can go home and get some sleep. You have both performed your parts mighty well. No professionals could have done better. Glad Charley helped you, Tom, so well. It will please his mother and Maud. But you were the brains of the whole thing and no one has been seriously hurt, and I'm not going to have you deprived of the great credit for its success. Good job, that's a fact, for a couple of youngsters."

"I guess you and the officer should come in for a good share of the credit, for bagging the game," remarked Tom.

"Pooh. None of the gang could have got away before the crowd had collected. We might just about as well not have been there, but here we are at home." He wanted to praise the boys, as he felt so relieved at the outcome, but the fact was, it took them all to accomplish the job. "By George, the women folks are up, waiting to hear the news. I'll bet they feared that some of us might get hurt." And such proved to be the fact.

Mrs. Benton said: "Oh Jarvis, I am so relieved to find you all unhurt. Did the tramps attempt to break into the store?"

Mr. Benton told the story of the events of the night, giving Tom the credit with Charley's aid. The boys went off to bed, leaving him to satisfy the curiosity of the ladies, and slept soundly till long after sunrise.

Deering Memorial Church

Rev. Charles L. Kinney, minister. Morning worship at 10:30; subject, "The Throne of the Kingdom". Church school at 11:45. Evening service at 7:30; subject, "Under the Southern Cross".

The first quarterly conference met in Deering Memorial, Tuesday evening. More than fifty sat down to a delicious covered dish supper, after which Rev. A. I. Oliver, District Superintendent of Rockland District, gave an inspiring message on "The Forces of Pentecost". The business of the conference brought forth reports from the Board of Trustees, Disbursing Steward, Connectional Steward, Director of Religious Education, Church School Superintendent, President of the Ladies' Aid, President of the Woman's Foreign Missions, President of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, and the pastor. Miss Hester Ordway, Dr. C. L. Buck and Dr. C. W. Wright were appointed a committee on Church History of Deering Memorial.

By a unanimous vote William Record Wright was granted a Local Preacher's License. This splendid young man is the son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Wright. He has done splendid work in the Epworth League and Church School of this church, and also in the church in New York city, where he has been working since last September. He is entering Bangor Theological Seminary this September, preparing for the Ministry. A splendid spirit of co-operation and enthusiasm was manifest, which gives promise of a good year.

BOY SCOUT CAMP

Troop I, Boy Scouts of Norway, returned Friday night from a five day trip to Saturday Pond. Sixteen rough and ready Scouts made the trip and reported to have had a splendid time. The boys enjoyed a relay race, boating, swimming and several red hot ball games. Several boys passed tests in fire building, knife and hatchet and swimming. The boys took a five mile hike to Pleasant Pond exploring the Bell Hill tower. Here a wrestling tournament was held. Rexford Waite winning the heavy weight crown and in the fly weight class Wayne Pike and John Morrison wrestled to a draw. Many of the boys' parents made short calls and thanks to them for refreshments donated to the boys. William, commonly called "Joe" Labossiere, accompanied the boys and expresses his appreciation for the courtesy and obedience shown by the Scouts.

The boys who were in camp were: Robert C. Hayden, Rexford Waite, John Morrison, Wesley Dyer, Elwood Millett, Lester Locke, Francis Locke, George Smith Jr., Maurice Chipman, Albert Durell, Howard Durell, Merle Hunt, Norman Goodwin, Wayne Pike, Bernard Hutchins, Sherwood Cleveland.

D. A. R. FIELD DAY

The D. A. R. held its field day outing at Mrs. Conary's Pine Cone Tea Room, having it at night to accommodate those members who were unable to go for all day. A splendid chicken dinner was served at 6 o'clock, to a large crowd, with three guests, Mrs. E. L. Parris of Paris Hill, a member of Melzmgah Chapter, Beacon, N. Y.; Mrs. May B. Darrach of Martha's Vineyard Chapter, Edgartown, Mass.; Miss Josephine Cole of Henry Wadsworth Chapter, Portland. A short business meeting was held after the luncheon. The program committee report was read and accepted and other business discussed and voted upon.

The evening was spent socially and with games. The Chapter appreciates all Mrs. Conary did for them. They found the Pine Cone Tea Room an ideal place and Mrs. Conary a splendid hostess.
